Designing Interactive Worlds With Words A Representational Theory Of Writing:

Designing Interactive Worlds With Words David S. Kaufer, Brian S. Butler, 2000-04 This book offers a theory of writing as representational composition identifying fundamental elements which underlie all principles of writing and textual composition For students of writing in all areas as well as writers at all levels The Multimediated Rhetoric of the Internet Carolyn Handa, 2013-12-04 This project is a critical rhetorical study of the digital text we call the Internet in particular the style and figurative surface of its many pages as well as the conceptual design patterns structuring the content of those same pages Handa argues that as our lives become increasingly digital we must consider rhetoric applicable to more than just printed text or to images Digital analysis demands our acknowledgement of digital fusion a true merging of analytic skills in many media and dimensions CDs DVDs and an Internet increasingly capable of streaming audio and video prove that literacy today means more than it used to namely the ability to understand information however presented Handa considers pedagogy professional writing hypertext theory rhetorical studies and composition studies moving analysis beyond merely using the web towards thinking rhetorically about its construction and its impact on culture This book shows how analyzing the web rhetorically helps us to understand the inescapable fact that culture is reflected through all media fused within the parameters of digital technology Subject Guide to Books in Print ,2001 Research Writing Revisited Pavel Zemliansky, Wendy Bishop, 2004 The time has come to brush the dust off research writing pedagogy and reimagine it into the twenty first century classroom with fresh approaches that breathe life into both the papers themselves and the instruction that supports them American Book Publishing Record ,2000 Conference Record ,2002 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2002 Lingua Fracta Collin Gifford Brooke, 2009 This book begins from the assumption that there is an intrinsically technological dimension to rhetoric arguing that we have become so accustomed to practicing rhetoric in the context of print technologies that we have often naturalized or ignored that dimension New communication and information technologies do not simply provide us with new sites of rhetorical practice instead they challenge us to reconceive rhetoric altogether This groundbreaking volume argues that a rhetoric of new media should attend to ecologies of practice treating interfaced rather than texts as our sites and units of analysis To devise such a rhetoric the book offers a systematic reconsideration of the canons of classical rhetoric Rather than understanding the canons as stages in a linear composing process this book describes the canons as repertoires of multiple practices that shift as we move among media Drawing on examples that range from Wikipedia to World of Warcraft the book reconstitutes the canons restoring to them the vitality they held for ancient rhetoricians and reshaping them into a framework for understanding the technological developments facing future generations Library & Information Science Abstracts ,2005 Type Design Teal Triggs, 2003-10-21 From inception to commercial application and with lavishly illustrated examples this book explores the idea of type design by experimentation and how this produces innovations in typography Treating them as two distinct disciplines the book first deals with the design of typefaces and secondly with the use of type in layouts This is an essential book for professionals students academics and anyone who is interested in typography graphic design visual culture and design history BOOK JACKET Border/lines ,1992 Interactive Architecture ,2007 Resources in Education ,1997
