Designing Judicial Review Interest Groups Congress And Communications Policy:

Designing Judicial Review Charles R. Shipan, 2000 Why interest groups and members of Congress fight over the procedural details in legislation Communication Yearbook 25 William B. Gudykunst, 2001-05 This volume offers state of the art communication research representing media interpersonal intercultural and other areas of communication It is an important reference on current research for scholars and students in the social sciences

Communications Policy Stylianos Papathanassopoulos, Ralph M. Negrine, 2021-01-14 Culture politics economics and technology all impact upon policy decisions To investigate the factors that influence communications policy however one has to go beyond conventional views of media and communication studies and combine these with policy studies Communications Policy Theories and Issues utilizes new research to highlight key debates and developments and addresses a broad spectrum of contemporary concerns regarding the structure and the organization of communications systems in the past present and future Combining theoretical analysis with empirical research findings this comprehensive text explores the contemporary theories and issues in communications policy that affect all democratic societies as they seek to address the challenges of emerging information and communications technologies Featuring contributions from distinguished authors across a range of media disciplines Communications Policy introduces challenging ideas about how communications should be structured in the future and is essential reading for all policy makers researchers and students of communications policy Editors Stylianos Papathanassopoulos is Professor in Media Organization at the Faculty of Communication and Media Studies at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens He is the author of Television in the 21st Century 2005 Media and Politics 2004 and European Television in the Digital Age Issues Dynamics and Realities 2002 Ralph Negrine is Professor of Political Communication in the Journalism Studies Department at the University of Sheffield His previous books include The Transformation of Political Communication Palgrave 2008 Television and the Press Since 1945 1999 and The Communication of Politics 1996 Contributors Bram Abramson Johannes M Bauer Sandra Braman Dom Caristi Alistair Duff Gisela Gil Egui Alison Harcourt Jackie Harrison Robert W McChesney Serge Proulx Marc Raboy Concetta M Stewart Yan Tian and Roxanne Welters

Judicial Review in State Supreme Courts Laura Langer, 2012-02-01 Despite having the final word on many policy issues state supreme courts have received much less scholarly attention than the United States Supreme Court Examining these often neglected institutions this book demonstrates that by increasing our knowledge of the behavior of state supreme court judges across differing areas of law we can enrich our understanding of the function of state supreme courts and the relations between these institutions and other branches of government In addition Judicial Review in State Supreme Courts advances our conceptualization of the judiciary and offers a more general theory about judicial behavior accountability and the role of courts in American society Langer looks at the policy making powers of state supreme courts and the conditions under which justices are most likely to review and invalidate state laws portraying judges as forward thinking individuals who pursue both policy and electoral goals Communication Yearbooks Vols 6-33 Set Various,2021-12-02 The Communication Yearbook annuals originally published between 1977 and 2009 publish diverse state of the discipline literature reviews that advance knowledge and understanding of communication systems processes and impacts across the discipline Topics dealt with include Communication as Process Research Methodology in Communication Communication Effects Taxonomy of Communication and European Communication Theory Information Systems Division Mass Communication Research Mapping the Domain of Intercultural Communication Public Relations Feminist Scholarship Communication Law and Policy Visual Communication Communication and Cross Sex Friendships Across the Life Cycle Television Programming and Sex Stereotyping InterCultural Communication Training Leadership and Relationships Media Performance Assessment Cognitive Approaches to Communication Designing Judicial Review Charles R. Shipan,1997 Why interest groups and members of Congress fight over the procedural details in legislation Foundations of Communications Policy Philip M. Napoli,2001 Rapid changes in communication technologies are straining the existing system of electronic media regulation Despite the increasing pace of technological change the electronic media continue to be regulated under a well established set of guiding principles Principles such as the First Amendment the public interest the marketplace of ideas diversity competition localism and universal service continue to serve as the primary objectives for policymakers and as the focal points for contemporary policy controversies This volume focuses on these principles examining their underlying motivations and assumptions their central components their different interpretive approaches and their continued applicability in a rapidly changing electronic media environment Central to this book s analysis is the need for more thorough and rigorous application of these principles as tools for policy analysis rather than primarily as rhetorical devices for justifying policy outcomes Toward this end the book explicitly links each of these principles with communication policy analysis and illustrates how the dynamics of the policymaking process undermine the analytical utility of the foundation principles Checking the Courts Kirk A. Randazzo,Richard W. Waterman,2014-07-31 Examines and measures the extent to which statutory language affects judicial behavior How does the language of legislative statutes affect judicial behavior Scholars of the judiciary have rarely studied this question despite statutes being theoretically the primary opportunity for legislatures to ensure that those individuals who interpret the law will follow their preferences In Checking the Courts Kirk A Randazzo and Richard W Waterman offer a model that integrates ideological and legal factors through an empirical measure of statutory discretion The model is tested across multiple judicial institutions at both the federal and state levels and reveals that judges are influenced by the levels of discretion afforded in the legislative statutes In those cases where lawmakers have clear policy preferences legislation encourages judges to strictly interpret the plain meaning of the law Conversely if policy preferences are unclear legislation leaves open the possibility that judges will make decisions based on their own ideological policy preferences Checking the Courts thus provides us with a better understanding of the dynamic interplay between law and ideology A Communications Cornucopia Lloyd Morrisett,1998 Rapid progress in information technologies has produced an ever broadening array of choices in information products At the same time it has caused historically segmented industries such as television telephones computers and print media to converge and compete The result is a cornucopia of products and potential in communications along with enormous strain on the governmental institutions that use and regulate information technology The essays in this book provide a broad look at the many ways that information technology relates to issues of governance and public policy Adjusting regulatory institutions to the new technical realities is a great challenge Will monopoly power threaten the traditionally regulated areas of telephones and cable television or the software systems that integrate all information technologies into a single system with many competing players Can traditional approaches to intellectual property rights and control of socially harmful content be applied to the converged information sector This book sheds light on these issues and in so doing demonstrates the usefulness of rigorous multidisciplinary policy analysis in assessing the significance of changing technology The Hastings Law Journal ,1998

Congress and Constitutional Deliberation J. Mitchell Pickerill,2000 Hastings Law Journal ,1998 Judicial Review as a Political Variable Charles Richard Shipan,1993 Supreme Court of the United States George H. Rutland,2000 Although not as glamorous as the Presidency and not as raucous as Congress the Supreme Court quietly wields more power and influence over life in the United States than the other two combined There is not a facet of life in the US that the Supreme Court is not called upon sooner or later to offer an opinion about This bibliography gathers important literature about the Supreme Court and provides access through subject groupings as well as author and subject indexes Contents General History Separation of Powers Constitutional Law Freedom of Religion Judicial Process Civil Rights Justices Freedoms Judicial Power and Indexes Current Publications in Legal and Related Fields ,1998 Michigan Law Review ,2000 Recent Acquisitions Ohio State University. College of Law. Library,1997 American Constitutional Development: The powers of government Richard S. Randall,2002 This volume examines constitutional law in a unique developmental framework that shows how key events through American history have shaped the Supreme Court s understanding of the Constitution Places unique emphasis on the political economic social and developmental aspects of the Supreme Court s constitutional decisions The book examines the great issues and events of government and politics in the early middle and modern constitutions how they have shaped the Supreme Court s understanding of the Constitution and how the distributive consequences of that understanding in turn affect American political life For those who are interested in the American constitution ICSSR Journal of Abstracts and Reviews Indian Council of Social Science Research,2000

Prophets in Caesar's Courts Kevin R. den Dulk,2001
