Designs on Nature Sheila Jasanoff, 2005 Biology and politics have converged across much of the industrialized world Taking a look at some twenty five years of scientific and social development this work compares the politics and policy of the life sciences in Britain Germany the United States and in the European Union as a whole Interfaces of Performance Maria Chatzichristodoulou, Janis Jefferies, 2016-05-23 This collection of essays and interviews investigates current practices that expand our understanding and experience of performance through the use of state of the art technologies It brings together leading practitioners writers and curators who explore the intersections between theatre performance and digital technologies challenging expectations and furthering discourse across the disciplines As technologies become increasingly integrated into theatre and performance Interfaces of Performance revisits key elements of performance practice in order to investigate emergent paradigms To do this five concepts integral to the core of all performance are foregrounded namely environments bodies audiences politics of practice and affect The thematic structure of the volume has been designed to extend current discourse in the field that is often led by formalist analysis focusing on technology per se The proposed approach intends to unpack conceptual elements of performance practice investigating the strategic use of a diverse spectrum of technologies as a means to artistic ends The focus is on the ideas objectives and concerns of the artists who integrate technologies into their work In so doing these inquisitive practitioners research new dramaturgies and methodologies in order to create innovative experiences for and encounters with their audiences Elgar Encyclopedia of Science and Technology Studies Ulrike Felt, Alan Irwin, 2024-10-03 This Encyclopedia provides a comprehensive overview of the expanding field of science and technology studies STS Covering key frameworks themes and topics Ulrike Felt and Alan Irwin bring together expert contributors to map the development of STS within its historical and intellectual context New Technologies and EU Law Marise Cremona, 2017-06-23 What is the nature of the relationship between the fields of new technology and EU law What challenges do new technologies pose for the internal market and the fundamental principles of the EU The first part of the collection explores the EU's approach to the regulation of scientific and technological risk and the link between the regulation of technology and the internal market In detail the chapters analyse the interaction between EU law bioethics and medical and health technologies The second part of the collection enhances on this and the chapters scrutinize specific policy areas in order to explain the alternate ways in which EU policy and technology cooperate

Understanding Emotions in Post-Factual Politics Anna Durnová, 2019 p p1 margin 0 0px 0 0px 0 0px font 10 0px Arial Post factual politics has united scientists and civil society in a public defence of truth however the battle may already have been lost to a binarity of facts and emotions Analysing and comparing scientists protests against the Trump presidency with famous scientific controversies in modern medicine this innovative book redefines truth as a negotiation in public discourse between the interplay of values beliefs and facts It shows that in order to understand post factual politics we must unveil emotion's role in knowledge making      Biotechnology Policy across National Boundaries D.

West, 2007-07-23 A globalization of innovation has produced the most massive spurt in biotechnology in world history. Businesses, universities, and non-governmental organizations are collaborating to produce a science industrial complex in biotechnology. Using case studies of stem cell research, cloning, genetically modified food, in vitro fertilization, and chimeras in a number of Eastern and Western countries around the world, I argue that much of this biotech activity is global in nature and independent of state control. This shift in the relative influence of state and non-state actors has led to the virtual deregulation of biotechnology and the liberation of innovation from geopolitical constraints. These trends pose a number of interesting social, political, and ethical issues for the contemporary period and suggest the need to rethink how controversial moral issues are handled by the science industrial complex.      Environment & Planning, 2008      Patuxent, Policy, and the Public Interest Russell James Hall, 2008      Environment & Planning A, 2007-07      Environment and Planning, 2008      Freedom in Entangled Worlds S. Eben Kirksey, 2008      Current Literature on Science of Science, 2006

Differing Routes to Stem Cell Research Renato Giuseppe Mazzolini, Hans-Jörg Rheinberger, 2012 Stem cells have been in the center of a heated biomedical and biopolitical debate in the first decade of the new millennium. Ethical concerns prevailed. The present volume follows the controversial discussions on stem cells in Italy and Germany respectively over the past 15 years. It aims at an assessment of the situation and its method is comparative. The first part of the book takes a step back and sheds light on the early history of views on stem cells and on cellular reprogramming from the middle of the nineteenth to the end of the twentieth century. Part two and three have a close look on the recent developments in Germany and in Italy from three different viewpoints: the state of the art in scientific research, the public debate on its perceived promises and dangers, and the political and legal regulations that followed. It turns out that despite their cultural and geographical vicinity, there are significant national differences in the discursive and juridical strategies followed in both European countries.

Journal of European Integration, 2007      Policy, Uncertainty, and the Ecologist Joy Anna Hagen, 2008      University of British Columbia Law Review University of British Columbia, 2016      Science John Michels (Journalist), 2012      New Scientist and Science Journal, 2005      The Politics of Biotechnology in North America and Europe Éric

Montpetit, Christine Rothmayr, Frédéric Varone, 2007 Biotechnology is one of the most important new issues to emerge in the knowledge economy. The Politics of Biotechnology in North America and Europe provides analysts with a perspective on policy making in scientifically advanced countries that integrates the insights of several approaches and that displays a particular sensitivity to the complexity of policy making. Conjectures. This perspective allows going beyond the simplistic understandings of biotechnology policy currently prevailing. This volume provides a rigorous analysis and detailed information on biotechnology policy in nine countries. The essays included here present the results of in-depth empirical research in the area of biomedicine and agro-food biotechnology. The book is therefore not only of interest to policy makers.

and policy analysts but also to anyone with an interest in biotechnology
