Free School Teaching Kristan Accles Morrison,2012-02-01 Free School Teaching is the personal and professional journey of one teacher within the American educational system Faced with mounting frustrations in her own traditional middle school classroom and having little success in resolving them Kristan Accles Morrison decided to seek out answers first by immersing herself in the academic literature of critical education theory and then by turning to the field While the literature on progressive education gave her hope that things could be different and better for students locked into America s traditional education system she wanted to find a firsthand example of how these ideas played out in practice Morrison found a radical free school in Albany New York that embodied the ideas found in the literature and over a period of three months she observed and documented differences between alternative and traditional schools In trying to reconcile the gap between those systems Morrison details the lessons she learned about teachers students curriculum and the entire conception of why we educate our children

The Unschooling Handbook Mary Griffith,1998-04-29 To Unschoolers Learning Is As Natural As Breathing Did you know that a growing percentage of home schoolers are becoming unschoolers The unschooling movement is founded on the principle that children learn best when they pursue their own natural curiosities and interests Without bells schedules and rules about what to do and when the knowledge they gain through mindful living and exploration is absorbed more easily and enthusiastically Learning is a natural inborn impulse and the world is rich with lessons to be learned and puzzles to be solved Successful unschooling parents know how to stimulate and direct their children s learning impulse Once you read this book so will you

Adult Education at the Crossroads Matthias Finger,José Manuel Asún,2001 This is a pithy assessment of where adult education now stands the traditions out of which it came its current problems and possible futures The authors are particularly concerned with how its longstanding commitment to deliver social change ran into difficulties in the less favourable circumstances of the 1980s and 1990s They argue that its purposes now need to be reconceptualized in order for it to become once again a relevant and effective agent of change The authors remind adult educationists of their traditional commitment to social action by surveying the ideas of seminal adult education thinkers as they developed historically in Europe North America and later the Third World They show how today s very different context has eroded that original vision and purpose The book concludes by identifying four possible future scenarios the challenges confronting an adult education still committed to social change and the key features which they believe can contribute to learning our way out of the current impasse Encounter ,2007 Clearing ,1996 The Legacy of School for Aboriginal People Bernard Schissel,Terry Wotherspoon,2003 Education is expected to assist students in the development of their personal identities and the achievement of social and economic success Yet the aspirations of Aboriginal students have too often been thwarted by the very structures that are supposed to help them Combining a research study an extensive review of the literature and an analysis of current trends Schissel and Wotherspoon detail the harm done to Aboriginal children and their families not only in the past when residential schools explicitly set out to eliminate Aboriginal identities but also in more recent years when educational systems designed for the mainstream have relegated First Nations students to the sidelines The authors find hope for the future in four experimental programs from Saskatchewan in which severely stressed Aboriginal young people have found nourishment for their self esteem in educational settings that take into account traditional culture and spiritual teachings as well as academic achievement Interviews with Aboriginal students themselves give additional depth to the author s findings The Complete Home Learning Sourcebook Rebecca Rupp,1998 Lists all the resources needed to create a balanced curriculum for homeschooling from preschool to high school level The Homeschooling Handbook Mary Griffith,1997 As many as two million parents now educate their children at home and many more are considering the idea This non ideological book examines the pros and cons discusses how to handle regulations and shows how to design and implement a productive learning atmosphere at home for students of all ages Getting Started on Home Learning Rebecca Rupp,1999 In Getting Started on Home Learning homeschooling expert Rebecca Rupp provides much needed advice and information to all parents who ve ever considering teaching their children at home She dispels myths helps readers navigate tricky laws and provides guidance on how and where to find the resources necessary to put together a well rounded curriculum This guide the indispensable companion volume to the popular The Complete Home Learning Sourcebook Three Rivers Press 1998 provides all the information needed to make an informed decision Topics include Why Homeschool Homeschooling and the Law The S Question What About Socialization The Bottom Line How Much Does It All Cost Homeschooled Teenagers On to College Tools of the Trade Beyond the Silence J. Cynthia McDermott,1999 In this book the contributors investigate some of the essential elements of a democratic classroom JCT. ,1991* Higher Education for Democracy Steven A. Schapiro,1999 This collection of essays describes recent experiments at Goddard College Vermont which for 60 years has been developing programs based on the ideals of democracy and the principles of progressive education Higher Education for Democracy draws on that rich history as well as on the legacy of the progressive movement in the 1930s and 1940s which held education for democracy as one of its central tenets while exploring the principles and practices needed to confront the new challenges to democracy that society is now facing Chapters describing experiments in both residential education and short residency distance learning programs include discussion of such topics as teaching as a reciprocal and emancipatory relationship democratic organizational models spirituality and forbidden knowledge narrative and autobiography as a means to empowerment experiential approaches to reading and writing interdisciplinary study in the arts dialogical uses of new technologies and Freirian and feminist approaches to the pedagogy of the oppressed and the oppressor A concluding chapter explains how the concept of education for democracy can once again bring together in new ways the progressive goals of fostering individual development within diverse democratic communities This volume includes contributions by Eduardo Aquino Ken Bergstrom Katherine Jelly Carl Glickman Kathleen Kesson Geraldine and Gus Lyn Piluso Nora Mitchell Steven A Schapiro Richard Schramm and Shelley Vermilya
