Ecological Regions of North America ,1997 This volume represents a first attempt at holistically classifying and mapping ecological regions across all three countries of the North American continent A common analytical methodology is used to examine North American ecology at multiple scales from large continental ecosystems to subdivisions of these that correlate more detailed physical and biological settings with human activities on two levels of successively smaller units The volume begins with an overview of North America from an ecological perspective concepts of ecological regionalization This is followed by descriptions of the 15 broad ecological regions including information on physical and biological setting and human activities The final section presents case studies in applications of the ecological characterization methodology to environmental issues The appendix includes a list of common and scientific names of selected species characteristic of the ecological regions

Forest and landscape restoration FLR is gaining momentum through the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration 2021 2030 National commitments for FLR are increasing under the three Rio conventions UNFCCC CBD UNCCD the Bonn Challenge the New York Declaration on Forests the Glasgow Leaders Declaration on Forest and Land Use and the Forest and Climate Leaders Partnership These restoration linked targets and declarations at the global level also include countries in Asia and the Pacific with a wave of regional level FLR targets and initiatives such as the ASEAN Green Initiative Landscape Partnership Asia and the Regional Strategy and Action Plan for FLR in Asia Pacific FLR ambitions and efforts on the ground are strong Many different types of approaches tools and innovative financing methods are being employed Interest is also robust in upscaling successful FLR that can contribute to enhancing or maintaining the delivery of ecosystem services addressing climate change and biodiversity loss and promoting poverty alleviation food security and economic development In this context the FAO Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific with support from the IUCN has examined FLR experiences in the region to identify promising FLR cases in various country settings and ecosystem types This publication presents 15 promising cases selected from 150 projects based on their alignment with the ten principles of the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration High Priorities Derek Denniston,1995 Terrestrial Ecoregions of Africa and Madagascar,2004 As part of a global effort to identify those areas where conservation measures are needed most urgently World Wildlife Fund has assembled teams of scientists to conduct ecological assessments of all five continents Terrestrial Ecoregions of Africa and Madagascar is the latest contribution presenting in a single volume the first comprehensive assessment of biodiversity patterns threats to biodiversity and resulting conservation priorities across the African continent and its islands Looking at biodiversity and threats in terms of biological units rather than political units the book offers a comprehensive examination of African biodiversity across all biomes and multiple taxonomic groups In addition to the seven main chapters the book includes twenty essays by regional experts that provide more depth on key issues as well as nine detailed appendixes that present summary data used in the analyses specific analytical methodologies and a thorough text description for each of Africa's 119 terrestrial ecoregions Terrestrial Ecoregions of Africa and Madagascar provides a blueprint for conservation action and represents an unparalleled guide for investments and activities of conservation agencies and donor organizations Overcoming Malnutrition Sharma, Manohar,Garcia, Marito,Qureshi, Aamir,Brown, Lynn R.,1996 Agroecological conditions largely determine the production potential of an agrarian area and its ability to support a number of people It seems to make sense therefore to base economic and policy research on ecoregional zones rather than on geographical or political boundaries alone This paper represents a first attempt to map the prevalence of underweight children by ecoregions using malnutrition as a proxy for poverty It indicates that the natural environment does play a role in poverty and malnutrition but other socioeconomic factors have a strong influence For example much of Latin America and the Caribbean falls into ecoregions where children are prone to malnutrition but the share of malnourished children is lower than would be expected because incomes are relatively high Remote Sensing of Land Use and Land Cover Chandra P. Giri,2016-04-19 Filling the need for a comprehensive book that covers both theory and application Remote Sensing of Land Use and Land Cover Principles and Applications provides a synopsis of how remote sensing can be used for land cover characterization mapping and monitoring from the local to the global scale With contributions by leading scientists from around the world Watersheds Paul A. DeBarry,2004-07-26 Get the most up to date and comprehensive guide to watershed analysis and management In Watersheds Processes Assessment and Management author Paul DeBarry covers aspects of watershed physical processes such as assessing classifying and evaluating a watershed using GIS models for watershed assessment and effectively planning for future use and demands He covers precipitation ecology geology soils geomorphology hydrogeology hydrology water quality hydraulics GIS data collection planning and management And he takes you beyond theory so you learn to apply planning management GIS and hydrologic engineering principles in real world watershed management This concise reference manual is ideal whether you're a scientist biologist geologist engineer
