Desert Hostage:

Desert Hostage Sara Wood, 1991 Desert Hostage Diane Dunaway, 1982 When the Englishwoman Juliette Clayton is held captive by the Sheik of El Abadan she is torn between her desire to escape and her growing love for him DESERT HOSTAGE Sara Wood, Rinko Nagami, 2015-02-25 Tiffany didn't want more drama in her life but unfortunately it still came for her Just as her company was on the verge of going under a man named Hassan visited asking her to do a job that just might save it Hassan being the commander in chief of the Sharif Empire Tiffany's boss was more than willing to accept the job The way Hassan glowers at Tiffany she is instantly reminded of her late husband Hassan turns out to be her brother in law come looking for her and more specifically her son Tiffany's son is the heir to the Sharif Empire and as such Hassan wants to take him to his homeland to learn about his country He offers to take Tiffany too Remembering how awful her husband was she assumes Hassan can be no better Just what are Hassan's true intentions for her and her son Six Years a Hostage Stephen McGown, 2021-07-29 THE EXTRAORDINARY STORY OF THE LONGEST HELD AL QAEDA CAPTIVE IN THE WORLD Stephen McGown was en route from London to South Africa on a once in a lifetime trip by motorbike returning home to Johannesburg He had reached Timbuktu in Mali when he was captured along with a Dutch and a Swedish national by Al Qaeda Islamist militants Steve was taken because he held a British passport He was subsequently held hostage at various camps in the Sahara Desert in the north west of Africa for nearly six years before eventually being released Life as Steve had known it changed in that instant that he was taken at gunpoint He had nothing to bargain with and everything to lose For the next six years he reluctantly engaged in what he came to call the greatest chess game of his life Thousands of kilometres to the south in Johannesburg the shock of Stephen's capture struck the McGown family and his wife Cath with whom he had until recently been living in London They immediately began efforts to secure Steve's release through diplomatic channels and in every other way they felt might have a chance of seeing Stephen freed But as the months of captivity became years Steve was compelled to go to extraordinary lengths to survive Making it back home alive became his sole aim To accomplish this he realised that he would have to do everything he could to raise his status in the eyes of his captors To this end he taught himself Arabic and French and also converted to Islam accepting a new name Lot To this day Steve retains the unenviable record of being the longest held surviving prisoner of Al Qaeda While he was undoubtedly always Al Qaeda's captive through the long years he spent in intimate proximity to his captors Steve got to see the Islamist militants as few other Westerners have ever seen them Six Years a Hostage is not only a remarkable story of mental strength physical endurance and the resilience of the human spirit but also significantly a unique and nuanced perspective on one of the world's most feared terrorist groups Steve did not merely survive his terrible ordeal he emerged from the desert a changed stronger more positive human being This is Stephen McGown's remarkable story as told to Tudor Caradoc Davies a freelance writer editor and author based in Cape Town South Africa After seven years spent working for glossy magazines such as Men

s Health GQ Best Life and Women s Health he now contributes to a range of publications He also writes for the South African Sunday Times and Red Bulletin

Desert Passions Hsu-Ming Teo, 2012-11-15 The Sheikh E M Hull s best selling novel that became a wildly popular film starring Rudolph Valentino kindled sheik fever across the Western world in the 1920s A craze for all things romantically Oriental swept through fashion film and literature spawning imitations and parodies without number While that fervor has largely subsided tales of passion between Western women and Arab men continue to enthrall readers of today s mass market romance novels In this groundbreaking cultural history Hsu Ming Teo traces the literary lineage of these desert romances and historical bodice rippers from the twelfth to the twenty first century and explores the gendered cultural and political purposes that they have served at various historical moments Drawing on high literature erotica and popular romance fiction and films Teo examines the changing meanings of Orientalist tropes such as crusades and conversion abduction by Barbary pirates sexual slavery the fear of renegades the Oriental despot and his harem the figure of the powerful Western concubine and fantasies of escape from the harem She analyzes the impact of imperialism decolonization sexual liberation feminism and American involvement in the Middle East on women s Orientalist fiction Teo suggests that the rise of female authored romance novels dramatically transformed the nature of Orientalism because it feminized the discourse made white women central as producers consumers and imagined actors and revised reversed or collapsed the binaries inherent in traditional analyses of Orientalism

The Guts to Try James H. Kyle, 1994-09 An Imperialist Love Story Amira Jarmakani, 2015-07-31 A curious figure stalks the pages of a distinct subset of mass market romance novels aptly called desert romances Animalistic yet sensitive dark and attractive the desert prince or sheikh emanates manliness and raw sexual power In the years since September 11 2001 the sheikh character has steadily risen in popularity in romance novels even while depictions of Arab masculinity as backward and violent in nature have dominated the cultural landscape An Imperialist Love Story contributes to the broader conversation about the legacy of orientalist representations of Arabs in Western popular culture Combining close readings of novels discursive analysis of blogs and forums and interviews with authors Jarmakani explores popular investments in the war on terror by examining the collisions between fantasy and reality in desert romances Focusing on issues of security freedom and liberal multiculturalism she foregrounds the role that desire plays in contemporary formations of U S imperialism Drawing on transnational feminist theory and cultural studies An Imperialist Love Story offers a radical reinterpretation of the war on terror demonstrating romance to be a powerful framework for understanding how it works and how it perseveres

Man-hunting in the Desert Alfred E. Haynes, 1894 Social Justice and Individual Ethics in an Open Society Frank Vandembroucke, 2012-12-06 Can the need for incentives justify inequality Starting from this question Frank Vandembroucke examines a conception of justice in which both equality and responsibility are involved In the first part of the inquiry which explores the implementation of that conception of justice the justification of incentives assumes that agents make personal choices based only upon their own interests The second part of the book challenges the idea that a normative conception of distributive justice can be based on that traditional assumption i e that personal choices are not the subject matter of justice Thus Vandenbroucke questions the Rawlsian idea that the primary subject of a theory of justice is the basic structure of society and not the individual conduct of its citizens For a society to be really just the ethos of individual conduct has to serve justice Non mathematical readers can skip the formal model proposed in Chapter 3 and understand the rest of the book

Romance Fiction and American Culture William A. Gleason, Eric Murphy Selinger, 2017-05-15 Since the 1970s romance novels have surpassed all other genres in terms of popularity in the United States accounting for half of all mass market paperbacks sold and driving the digital publishing revolution Romance Fiction and American Culture brings together scholars from the humanities social sciences and publishing to explore American romance fiction from the late eighteenth to the early twenty first century Essays on interracial inspirational and LGBTQ romance attend to the diversity of the genre while new areas of inquiry are suggested in contextual and interdisciplinary examinations of romance authorship readership and publishing history of pleasure and respectability in African American romance fiction and of the dynamic tension between the genre and second wave feminism As it situates romance fiction among other instances of American love culture from Civil War diaries to Bob Dylan's Blood on the Tracks Romance Fiction and American Culture confirms the complexity and enduring importance of this most contested of genres
