Desideratum In Washington:

Desideratum in Washington James Kirkpatrick Flack,1975      North American Exploration John Logan Allen,1997-01-01 The third volume of North American Exploration covering 1784 to 1914 charts a dramatic shift in the purpose priorities and results of the exploration of North America As the nineteenth century opened exploration was still fostered by the growth of empire but by the 1830s commercial interests came to drive most exploratory ventures particularly through the fur trade By midcentury however as imperial rivalries lessened and the fur trade declined exploration was driven by the growing scientific spirit of the age although the science was often conducted in the service of a search for railroad routes or natural resources linked to military concerns A clear transition took place as the spirit of the Enlightenment gave way to economic imperatives and to the science of the post Darwinian age and exploration passed beyond discovery and geographical definition This volume explores the resultant beginnings of an understanding of the continent and its native peoples      Water, Land, and Law in the West Donald J. Pisani,1996 The series presents an interdisciplinary approach to the use and misuse of resources in the American West This volume comprises essays written between 1982 and 1994 and previously published in journals such as Western Historical Quarterly J of American History and Environmental History Review Pisani one of the nation s leading environmental and Western historians highlights the central role played by land water and timber allocation in the American West and shows how efforts to achieve justice and efficiency were compromised by the region s obsession with achieving rapid economic growth Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR
