Art & Design Education in Times of Change Ruth Mateus-Berr, Luise Reitstätter, 2017-05-08 It has always been the case that the teaching of art has had to deal with social changes. We are currently facing historic challenges and phenomena which we could never have imagined: the global financial crisis, the massive migration flows, and the ubiquitous spread of new technologies in our everyday life. Signature Pedagogies for Professions in Arts and Design Rebecca Y. P. Kan, Christopher S. G. Khoo, 2025-03-14 This open access book surveys the dynamic landscape of professional arts and design education research, examining salient concepts and issues through the lens of signature pedagogies as an analytical framework. The arts and design professions covered in this book are music, dance, theatre, fashion design, design, and media and fine art. Chapters in the book present a combination of reflective accounts, in-depth analyses, and empirical research findings, shedding light on the education of students for productive and meaningful careers in the arts and design. They examine how concepts, issues, methods, and practices relate to habits of the mind, hand, and heart. Pedagogical insights on creative uncertainty, designerly formations, evocative ambiguity, generative apprenticeship, reflexivity, transition, truth, and artistic tradition and heritage are explored with nuance and depth. The book constitutes a collective effort of artist educators at the Nanyang Academy of Fine Arts University of the Arts Singapore in documenting a shared institutional heritage which is continually rejuvenated through critical engagement with contemporary challenges They examine the tensions embedded in the signature pedagogies and possible solutions to address them at the micro e g classroom or practicum meso e g program and macro e g institution levels In the process the book highlights research issues and directions for arts education researchers while also offering ideas that artist educators can explore and incorporate into their teaching

Teaching and Learning the Arts in Higher Education with Technology Joyce Hwee Ling Koh, Rebecca Yen Pei Kan, 2021-12-02 This book is an inquiry about the possibilities of using technology to support the education of artists within higher education contexts Even though technology enhanced learning and teaching may seem incongruent with the long established studio based cultures of making and performing it is increasingly becoming a pivotal point to connect artistes to potential audience and markets Amidst the COVID 19 pandemic technology is also the crucial linchpin for educational continuity of student artists This book explores how technology could enhance the education of artists and designers as they continue to create make and add value to life and society through their artistry It draws upon the experiences of the Nanyang Academy of Fine Arts NAFA a pioneering arts institution in Singapore with over 80 years of institutional history Through 9 vignettes this book illustrates technology enhanced pedagogical practices that have been implemented in different artistic learning spaces including classroom studio and stage as well as institutional support strategies With a naturalistic stance these chapters seek to illuminate realistic pictures of teaching and learning that are being uncovered by artist educators as they sought to integrate technology within teaching practices using available technologies and within the classes that they are teaching It is hoped that this book will stimulate conversation among artist educators about possible pedagogical models as well as inform higher arts institutions about the contextual strategies needed to support the creation of technology enhanced pedagogical practices The International Journal of Art & Design Education ,2009 Undergraduate and Graduate Courses and Programs Iowa State University,2009 Courses and Programs Iowa State University,1999 Material Thinking Paul Carter,2004 Material Thinking is a ground breaking book for artists and for those who study or teach in the arts Author and artist Paul Carter provides an intimate first hand account of how ideas are turned into works and how the material thinking these artworks embody produces new understandings about ourselves our histories and the culture we inhabit Taking as his subject several artistic collaborations which resulted in performances exhibitions or videos Carter explores how each unfolded In the course of this analysis he constructs a philosophy of how the practice and theory of making art are interconnected a philosophy powerful enough to provide an intellectual underpinning for the new and still developing field of creative research Here is startling practical erudition Prodigious book learning is laced with real understanding of what it means to make art to infuse sullen matter with something rousing delicate and vital Ross Gibson Research Professor of New Media Digital Culture UTS For twenty years I have campaigned for and conducted research in the medium of architecture itself research that is not about architecture but of if Carter begins by drawing the same distinction but his ambition is greater he seeks to explore and define research in the zones where creative mediums shade into each other To work in a zone is to collaborate with practitioners who are centred on their medium of practice Carter posits a new role for the critic not outside looking in not about practice but inside of and pushing practitioners towards the liminal and thus toward the innovative Leon van Schaik Innovation Professor of Architecture RMIT Good Practices / Best Practices: A Manifesto for Academic Design Education and Research on Creative Practice Carl Bourgeois, Karen Maex,Kris Scheerlinck,Yves Schoonjans,Margarita Greene,Chris Van Keer,Liesbeth Huybrechts,Hilde Heynen,Richard Blythe,Johan Verbeke, Frank van der Hoeven,Guy Van Kerckhoven,2012-11-12 Art & Academe ,1993 Landscape, ethnoscape International Association for People-Environment Studies.
