Hardie, 2012 The Oxford History of Classical Reception OHCREL is designed to offer a comprehensive investigation of the numerous and diverse ways in which literary texts of the classical world have stimulated responses and refashioning by English writers Covering the full range of English literature from the early Middle Ages to the present day OHCREL both synthesizes existing scholarship and presents cutting edge new research employing an international team of expert contributors for each of the five volumes OHCREL endeavours to interrogate rather than inertly reiterate conventional assumptions about literary periods the processes of canon formation and the relations between literary and non literary discourse It conceives of reception as a complex process of dialogic exchange and rather than offering large cultural generalizations it engages in close critical analysis of literary texts It explores in detail the ways in which English writers engagement with classical literature casts as much light on the classical originals as it does on the English writers own cultural context This fourth volume and second to appear in the series covers the years 1790 1880 and explores romantic and Victorian receptions of the classics Noting the changing fortunes of particular classical authors and the influence of developments in archaeology aesthetics and education it traces the interplay between classical and nineteenth century perceptions of gender class religion and the politics of republic and empire in chapters engaging with many of the major writers of this period

A Feeling for Books Janice A. Radway,1997 Traces the history of the Book of the Month Club and reconstructs the standards ethos tastes and passions that drove club officials

Haunted Texts William Evan Fredeman,2003-01-01 Begun by young rebels committed to revolutionizing the creative arts Pre Raphaelitism has moved from the margins of nineteenth century art and literature to the vanguard of interdisciplinary studies The term is now used to denote the Pre Raphaelite Aesthetic and Decadent movements in art culture and literature but it has remained as difficult to define as ever Haunted Texts attempts to meet the challenge of defining and illustrating the full spectrum of Pre Raphaelitism Working with a diverse range of Pre Raphaelite poetry painting decorative arts book illustration and political prose the ten contributors to Haunted Texts pursue the critical strategies of such leading figures as Christina Rossetti and Dante Rossetti William Morris and Oscar Wilde Walter Pater and Aubrey Beardsley The essays consider the bibliocritical issues of archival research concerning the personal letters and diaries of the Rossetti family the technological issues that challenge conventional methods of scholarship the gender issues concerning constructions of identity derived from the changing conceptions of love desire anxiety and brotherhood and the interdisciplinary cultural issues that transgress the borders of high art and popular culture Haunted Texts pays tribute to the scholarship of Professor William Fredeman who devoted much of his career since the 1950s to establishing a critical foundation that would enable future scholars to define their understanding of the complexity of Pre Raphaelitism
