Generative AI and Libraries Michael Hanegan,Chris Rosser,2025-12-03 In the form of generative AI libraries are facing technological transformation of unprecedented speed and scale Both controversial and disruptive the sudden ubiquity of AI has already triggered uncertainty as well as the need for rapid adaptation As AI reshapes how humans learn work and interact with information libraries across the ecosystem from public to academic from school to special libraries must resist the temptation to merely serve as static support and instead claim the center by becoming a dynamic positive influence Because as the authors of this book persuasively argue libraries are uniquely positioned to lead AI s ethical and human centered integration within communities Blending theory and concepts with an unswervingly pragmatic approach from this book readers will be introduced to foundational principles and frameworks for navigating the so called Age of Intelligence that provide useful guiderails no matter how AI technology actively evolves delve into the complex ethical considerations of AI including bias equity privacy misinformation and the potential impact on human agency and dignity receive guidance related to stakeholder engagement resource allocation and the need for continuous learning and adaptation discover practical models for evaluating and implementing AI tools thoughtfully and effectively in ways that align with libraries values and mission become familiar with STACKS an approach for learning problem solving and innovation with generative AI explore AI literacy as an expression of metaliteracy using seven frames for instruction and learning and walk away with a sense of how libraries can actively define their essential role as leaders and shapers of the AI landscape ensuring their continued value and preventing marginalization As this book demonstrates by embracing their unique position as ethical stewards and trusted guides libraries have an unprecedented opportunity to shape how AI transforms society not from the margins but from the center of a shared future Artificial Intelligence: Theory and Applications Harish

Sharma,Antorweep Chakravorty,Shahid Hussain,Rajani Kumari,2025-06-24 This book features a collection of high quality research papers presented at International Conference on Artificial Intelligence Theory and Applications AITA 2024 held during 9 10 August 2024 in Bengaluru India The book is divided into two volumes and presents original research and review papers related to artificial intelligence and its applications in various domains including health care finance transportation education and many more Research Handbook on Classroom Observation Sean Kelly,2025-03-12 This comprehensive

Research Handbook offers cutting edge insights into classroom observation systems for teacher evaluation and professional development with an emphasis on both applied and discovery oriented inquiry Health Tech Trond Undheim,2021-11-09 Health Tech Rebooting Society s Software Hardware and Mindset fulfills the need for actionable insight on what s truly driving change and how to become a changemaker not just affected by it The book introduces anybody who wishes to understand how global healthcare will change in the next decade to the key technologies social dynamics and systemic shifts that are shaping the future Healthcare futurist investor and entrepreneur Trond Arne Undheim describes the complex history of public health why it's so complicated and what the major challenges are right now. He includes a discussion of COVID why it happened the cultural factors that have slowed down traditional public health measures and how innovation can help. He also discusses what is happening in health systems around the world as a result of the pandemic. The book explores certain health tech measures: tools, basic medical devices gradually being upgraded and digitally enhanced processes and innovations that are already working well along with others that are in their infancy such as AI wearables, robotics, sensors and digital therapeutics. The book describes the movers and shakers in the healthcare system of the future from startups to patient and service providers as well as the health challenges of our time including pandemics, aging, preventive healthcare and much more. The book concludes with a look at how health tech may bring about the biggest opportunity to transform healthcare for decades to come.

Using and Understanding AI in Higher Education Rebecca J. Allen, Alex Nakonechnyi, 2025-09-30

This book explores how artificial intelligence (AI) is reshaping higher education through practical, real-world strategies and grounded research. It begins with accessible introductions to key concepts such as generative AI, machine learning and natural language processing before progressing to theoretical frameworks and empirical studies of how students, faculty and institutions are responding to these technologies. Topics include ethics, AI literacy, digital equity, technology integration in teaching and learning and student-led efforts like the AI Café. Drawing from participatory research, institutional case studies and global AI policy analysis, the book provides actionable insights for faculty, instructional designers, academic leaders and researchers. Emphasizing inclusive and culturally responsive approaches, this book is an essential resource for advancing faculty development, enhancing student engagement and navigating the evolving role of AI in academic life.

Deciphering

the T Cell Response in SARS-CoV-2 Infection Alessio Mazzoni, Sara De Biasi, Pia Kvistborg, Laura Maggi, 2024-07-22

COVID 19 is a recently emerged infectious disease caused by the novel coronavirus SARS-CoV-2. The immune system has a primary role in pathogen elimination and a rapid and effective response can limit disease severity. In this context, T cells play the major role in cell-mediated adaptive immune response. The protective role of CD4 and CD8 T cells has been inferred from studies on patients who recovered from SARS and MERS and accumulating data are now showing their relevance in SARS-CoV-2 infection. Moreover, memory T cells induced by previous pathogens can shape the susceptibility to and the clinical severity of other infections but the complete picture has yet to be elucidated. If the virus is not rapidly eliminated, COVID 19 may progress towards a secondary inflammatory phase that is directly responsible for a worsening in clinical symptoms and immune system impairment. Besides marked lymphopenia, COVID 19 patients' T cell compartment displays several alterations involving different subpopulations of T cells in terms of phenotype, metabolic profile and functionality.
