Taking the Work Out of Networking Karen Wickre, 2018-11-27 For introverts who panic at the idea of networking Wickre's book is a deep calming breath Sophia Dembling author of The Introvert's Way Former Google executive editorial director of Twitter self-described introvert and the best connected Silicon Valley figure you've never heard of Walt Mossberg Wall Street Journal offers networking advice for anyone who has ever canceled a coffee date due to social anxiety Learn to nurture a vibrant circle of reliable contacts without leaving your comfort zone Networking has garnered a reputation as a sort of necessary evil Some people relish the opportunity to boldly work the room introduce themselves to strangers and find common career ground but for many others the experience is awkward or even terrifying The common networking advice for introverts are variations on the theme of overcoming or fixing their quiet tendencies But Karen Wickre is a self-described introvert who has worked in Silicon Valley for thirty years She shows you how to embrace your quiet nature and make genuine connections that last that we can nurture across the world for all kinds of purposes Chris Anderson head of TED Karen's embrace your quiet side approach is for anyone who finds themselves shying away from traditional networking activities or for those who would rather be curled up with a good book on a Friday night than out at a party With compelling arguments and creative strategies this practical easy to use Sree Sreenivasan former chief digital officer of Columbia University book is a perfect guide

Disrupting and Design Thinking Education CJ Meadows, 2024-10-02 Meadows proposes an approach to the education business that begins with needs and proposes educational and business models supported by new technologies This book takes a design thinking and disruption perspective on the future of education Beginning with shocking statistics on cost time and lengthy debt repayment it presents a clear case for disruption in the education sector It continues by examining future skills in the age of AI machine learning and robotics In this new age businesses need a new kind of workforce and workers need to equip themselves to survive and thrive Drawing upon tools and techniques from disruption and design thinking Meadows puts forward new frameworks of education business and technology all with examples of educators and learners already doing it today This book provides rigorous thinking and practical guidance for professionals in the education industry and budding education entrepreneurs as well as homeschooling parents

Anglican Evangelists Martyn Snow, 2019-06-03 For twenty years the Archbishops College of Evangelists has affirmed and supported Anglican evangelists This book marking the College's twentieth anniversary relaunched the College with a clear focus on identifying and training new evangelists This book then marks a significant transition The thirteen authors work in a range of contexts and come from different traditions within the church Their focus in this book is less on the nature of evangelism and more on the calling and gifting of the evangelist In different ways they reflect on the questions what is an evangelist How should the church identify and affirm evangelists How do we train evangelists How do we enable evangelists to equip all God's people to witness to the kingdom of God The thirteen contributors are all practitioners and this is reflected in their range of experience and writing styles Some take a deeply biblical and theological approach Others reflect on their personal journey and learning Others offer practical insights and a helpful reframing of the initial questions All of them are fervent in their plea to the church to recognise the unique calling and gifting of the evangelist and reflect on how this gift is received and passed on within the church
