Soulware Way Kuo,2019-04-24 This book is a critical account of the history evolution and challenges of higher education in mainland China Taiwan and Hong Kong with important reflections on other systems notably those in the US UK Korea and Japan In addition to hardware and software it introduces the concept of Soulware in global higher education and analyses its importance for internationalization and the pursuit of excellence In an age where robots and artificial intelligence are impacting our jobs and our daily lives its critical analysis and insightful reflections provide considerable value for a range of global stakeholders interested in higher education reform to nurture talent and promote innovation to prepare students for an unpredictable future Professor Kuo's perspective provides considerable value for a range of global stakeholders both in the east and the west. As American universities awake to the realization that the demand for higher education is an increasingly global phenomena, his contribution could not be more timely. Mike Crow, PhD, President, Arizona State University, says Kuo advances a powerful historical argument for the means to achieve excellence in Asian universities. His recipe is bold leadership combining excellence in teaching and research and embracing the lessons of western university successes and failures. A superb combination of history and forward thinking. Michael Kotlikoff, VMD, PhD, Provost, Cornell University, says Kuo's book is not just about the past or the present. Rather, it offers useful insights into the future. In an age where robots and artificial intelligence are impacting our jobs and our daily lives, he introduces the concept of soulware and analyzes its importance for higher education. G. P. Bud Peterson, PhD, President, Georgia Institute of Technology, differing from their Western counterparts, Chinese universities will demonstrate their own cultural characteristics. In this regard, Professor Kuo's book offers us many valuable insights. Yong Qiu, PhD, President, Tsinghua University, Beijing, says wisdom is the ultimate goal of higher education. It is the illumination of that wisdom among audiences, English speaking or Chinese speaking, to which Way Kuo's book hopes to kindle a spark. Frank H. Shu, PhD, President, 2002-06 National Tsing Hua University, Hsinchu, and University Professor, Emeritus, University of California, Berkeley and San Diego.

The Farmer & Stock-breeder, 1928      Letters from the United States and Elsewhere to the Institute of Current World Affairs Irving J. Spitzberg, 1971      The Oxford Handbook of Higher Education in the Asia-Pacific Region Devesh Kapur, Lily Kong, Florence Lo, David M. Malone, 2023-01-11

Since the turn of the millennium it has become clear that the Asia Pacific Region is economically the fastest growing continent in the world and is likely to remain so for some time despite the setbacks of the COVID 19 pandemic. Asia Pacific's share of the world's Gross Domestic Product (GDP) doubled from 15 per cent to 30 per cent between 1970 and 2017 and is projected to account for half of global GDP by 2050. With South East and South Asia also growing rapidly with over half the world's population and three of the world's five largest economies, Asia is soon poised to home half of the world's middle class, a class that is both the driver and the product of higher education. The quality of a country's system of higher education may be seen both as a gauge of its current level of national development as well as of its future economic prospects. It is therefore natural that the putative Asian Century should generate interest in the region's higher education systems which on the one hand share common characteristics: a fixation with credentials and engineering, high technology especially among male students and business degrees, while at the same time are also highly differentiated, not only across countries but also within. As such, a better understanding of higher education achievements, failings, potential and structural limitations in the Asia Pacific Region is imperative. This handbook presents a number of significant country case studies and documents cross-cutting trends relating to, among other things, the trilemma faced by governments juggling competing claims of access, accessible cost and quality, the balance between teaching and research, the links between labour markets demand and higher education supply preferred fields of study and their consequences the rise of the research university in Asia the lure of institutions of international reputation within the region new education technologies and their effects and trends in government policy within the wider region and sub regions Security Owner's Stock Guide Standard and Poor's Corporation, 1962 Monthly statistical summary of 5100 stocks The Parliamentary Debates (Hansard).
