Creating Space The Story Of The Space Age Told Through Models:

Creating Space Mat Irvine, 2002 Foreword by Sir Arthur C Clarke Space exploration began with model and toy rockets History shows that the greatest Rocketeers began their careers flying model rockets Now in this book the story of the space race is told in dazzling colour From the birth of models to the present day the toy rockets have often inspired the real rockets of the future In fact model manufacturers like Revell and Aurora were frequently in trouble with the defence department for revealing military secrets This is the Story of the Space Age and uses the models to illustrate the way history twisted and turned to put us where we are today and maybe how space travel will develop in the future

The Atomic Bomb and American Society Rosemary B. Mariner, G. Kurt Piehler, 2009 Drawing on the latest research on the atomic bomb and its history the contributors to this provocative collection of eighteen essays set out to answer two key questions First how did the atomic bomb a product of unprecedented technological innovation rapid industrial scale manufacturing and unparalleled military deployment shape U S foreign policy the communities of workers who produced it and society as a whole And second how has American society's perception that the bomb is a means of military deterrence in the Cold War era evolve under the influence of mass media scientists public intellectuals and even the entertainment industry In answering these questions The Atomic Bomb and American Society sheds light on the collaboration of science and the military in creating the bomb the role of women working at Los Alamos the transformation of nuclear physicists into public intellectuals as the reality of the bomb came into widespread consciousness the revolutionary change in military strategy following the invention of the bomb and the development of Cold War ideology the image of the bomb that was conveyed in the popular media and the connection of the bomb to the commemoration of World War II As it illuminates the cultural social political environmental and historical effects of the creation of the atomic bomb this volume contributes to our understanding of how democratic institutions can coexist with a technology that affects everyone even if only a few are empowered to manage it Rosemary B Mariner is formerly Joint Chiefs of Staff Chair and Professor of Military Studies for the National War College She is currently a lecturer in history at the University of Tennessee Knoxville G Kurt Piehler is associate professor of history and former director of the Center for the Study of War and Society at the University of Tennessee Knoxville which hosted the conference that formed the basis of this volume He is the author of Remembering War the American Way and World War II in the American Soldiers Lives Series as well as the coeditor with John Whiteclay Chambers II of Major Problems in American Military History

Continental Defense in the Eisenhower Era C. Bright, 2010-09-27 Thousands of nuclear anti-aircraft arms were designed tested and deployed in the United States during Dwight D Eisenhower's presidency These Army Nike Hercules missiles Air Force Genie rockets and BOMARC and Falcon missiles were meant to counter a raid by attacking Soviet bombers U S policy makers believed that the American weapons could safely compensate for technological limitations which otherwise made it difficult to destroy high flying fast moving airplanes Continental Defense in the Eisenhower Era traces this armament from conception through deployment Bright recounts official actions doctrinal decisions and public policies It also discusses the widespread acceptance of these weapons by the American public a result of being touted in news releases featured in films and television episodes and disseminated throughout society as a whole The Observatory ,2003 A review of astronomy varies Columbia Accident Investigation Report United States. Mitchell's Novels Eva-Maria Windberger, 2023-07-17 The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels combines the investigation of David Mitchell's novels with the introduction of a new critical concept to literary studies: empowerment. Aiming to situate and establish empowerment firmly within the context of literary studies, it offers the first framework and definition for reading fictional texts with the lens of empowerment and applies it in the analysis of discourse, the fictional characters, and the role of the reader in Mitchell's novels. Drawing on narratological analysis, cognitive approaches to literature, and reader response theory, it features close readings of Cloud Atlas (2004), Black Swan Green (2006), and The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet (2010) and dissects the author's strategies, poetics, and agenda of empowering fiction. This book argues for an inherent indissoluble connection between empowerment and the telling of stories and demonstrates how literary studies can benefit from a serious engagement with empowerment and how such an engagement can stimulate new responses to fiction and put literary studies in conversation with other disciplines.
