Creating Your Lifespace:

EBOOK: Learning Spaces: Creating Opportunities for Knowledge Creation in Academic Life Maggi

Savin-Baden, 2007-11-16 This is a timely and important book which seeks to reclaim universities as places of learning. It is jargon free and forcefully argued. It should be on every principal and vice chancellor's list of essential reading. Jon Nixon, Professor of Educational Studies, University of Sheffield. The ability to have or to find space in academic life seems to be increasingly difficult since we seem to be consumed by teaching and bidding, overwhelmed by emails and underwhelmed by long arduous meetings. This book explores the concept of learning spaces, the idea that there are diverse forms of spaces within the life and life world of the academic where opportunities to reflect and critique their own unique learning position occur. Learning Spaces sets out to challenge the notion that academic thinking can take place in cramped busy working spaces and argues instead for a need to recognise and promote new opportunities for learning spaces to emerge in academic life. The book examines the ideas that Learning spaces are increasingly absent in academic life. The creation and re-creation of learning spaces is vital for the survival of the academic community. The absence of learning spaces is resulting in increasing dissolution and fragmentation of academic identities. Learning spaces need to be valued and possibly redefined in order to regain and maintain the intellectual health of academe. In offering possibilities for creative learning spaces, this innovative book provides key reading for those interested in the future of universities including educational developers, researchers, managers and policy makers.

Life Space Management P S Siwach, 2014-09-01 Life Space Management is a book that throws up a new concept of enhancing individual organisational effectiveness by managing the parameters of Life Space, a word coined by Kurt Lewin. Our entire effectiveness in life depends on how well we create space with others in the environment. All of us intrinsically yet unknowingly practice the art of creating the right space whenever we interact with others. Our entire relationship blooms and grows or diminishes based on the quantum of life space we create with them. The author has researched on this new subject and put across his views to help the reader evolve and grow more effective in life.

Creating Productive Organizations Elizabeth Smith, 1995-09-01 A highly motivated competent work force is vital to an organization's success. Creating Productive Organizations is an interactive manual that challenges and encourages readers to assess and develop a clear vision of their areas of competence and interest in order to enhance productivity. Basic common sense information about people, jobs and the workplace is presented using simple descriptions, methods, contemporary examples and illustrations. Readers are skillfully guided through the process of identifying and defining their skills, abilities, beliefs, values, work methods, knowledge and strengths. Step by step guidelines enable readers to evaluate and more closely match their talents, goals and visions with current and future demands of the constantly changing workplace. Written for supervisors, managers, leaders, mentors, work teams, members, academicians, students and anyone striving to learn more about themselves in order to increase job satisfaction and overall performance, Creating Productive Organizations is an excellent stand alone resource however the facilitator s guide is recommended for industry training or classroom use Facilitator s Guide The facilitator s guide is a multilevel experiential teaching tool that provides activities inventories questionnaires surveys and discussion resources for individual and group use Its content follows the same format as the manual and is designed to supplement and reinforce material presented in each chapter Is that You Out There? Tony Clark,Doug Bock,Mike Cornett,1973 How We Live Now Bella M. DePaulo,2015-08-25 A close up examination and exploration How We Live Now challenges our old concepts of what it means to be a family and have a home opening the door to the many diverse and thriving experiments of living in twenty first century America Across America and around the world in cities and suburbs and small towns people from all walks of life are redefining our lifespaces the way we live and who we live with The traditional nuclear family in their single family home on a suburban lot has lost its place of prominence in contemporary life Today Americans have more choices than ever before in creating new ways to live and meet their personal needs and desires Social scientist researcher and writer Bella DePaulo has traveled across America to interview people experimenting with the paradigm of how we live In How We Live Now she explores everything from multi generational homes to cohousing communities where one s family is made up of friends and neighbors to couples living apart together to single living and ultimately uncovers a pioneering landscape for living that throws the old blueprint out the window Through personal interviews and stories media accounts and in depth research How We Live Now explores thriving lifespaces and offers the reader choices that are freer more diverse and more attuned to our modern needs for the twenty first century and beyond
