The History of Creation, Vol. 1 of 2 Ernst Haeckel, 2015-06-15

Excerpt from The History of Creation Vol 1 of 2 Or the Development of the Earth and Its Inhabitants by the Action of Natural Causes: A Popular Exposition of the Doctrine of Evolution in General and of That of Darwin, Goethe and Lamarck in Particular. I am desirous of prefacing the English edition of the History of Creation with a few remarks which may serve to explain the origin and object of this book. In the year 1866 I published under the title Generelle Morphologie a somewhat comprehensive work which constituted the first attempt to apply the general doctrine of development to the whole range of organic morphology, Anatomy and Biogenesis and thus to make use of the vast march onwards which the genius of Charles Darwin has effected in all biological science by his reform of the Descent Theory and its establishment through the doctrine of selection. At the same time in the Generelle Morphologie the first attempt was made to introduce the Descent Theory into the systematic classification of animals and plants and to found a natural system on the basis of genealogy that is to construct hypothetical pedigrees for the various species of organisms. The Generelle Morphologie found but few readers for which the voluminous and unpopular style of treatment and its too extensive Greek terminology may be chiefly to blame.
