Christian Mission in a Pluralistic World John Patrick Brennan, 1990-01-01      Witnessing to Christ in a Pluralistic World Lalsangkima Pachuau, Knud Jorgensen, 2011-12

Description The relationship of Christian faith and mission to other living faiths is a core issue in contemporary mission. In a world where plurality of faiths is increasingly becoming a norm of life, insights on the theology of religious plurality are needed to strengthen our understanding of our own faith and the faith of others. Even though religious diversity is not new, we are seeing an upsurge in interest on the theologies of religions among all Christian confessional traditions. One reason is the discovery in the West of other religions living in its own midst and neighborhood. One may justifiably claim that no other issue in Christian mission is more important and more difficult than the theologies of religions. This will remain a major challenge for mission in a new century.

Christian Mission among Other Faiths was one of the Edinburgh 2010 themes. As part of the study process, position papers and case studies were invited from a wide range of contributors representing various theological positions, confessional traditions, and denominational bodies. The quality of the studies and the variety they represent convinced us to publish in this form. The position papers are reflections on the theme by scholars belonging to Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, Protestant, Conciliar Protestant, Evangelical, Pentecostal, and Seventh Day Adventist Churches. Among the case studies are articles on Christian mission among Muslims, Hindus, Buddhists, Jews, new religious movements, and folk or primal religions.

About the Contributors Dr Lalsangkima Pachuau was co-convenor of the Edinburgh 2010 study theme, Christian Mission among Other Faiths. He is Professor of the History and Theology of Mission and Dean of Advanced Research Programs at Asbury Theological Seminary, Kentucky. Ordained by the Presbyterian Church of India, Mizoram Synod, he has taught at the United Theological College, Bangalore, India. Dr Knud Jorgensen was chair of the Edinburgh 2010 Study Process Monitoring Group and participated in the study themes, Christian Mission among Other Faiths and Forms of Missionary Engagement. He is Adjunct Professor in Missiology, Communication, and Leadership at MF Norwegian School of Theology and Adjunct Professor in Missiology and Diakonia at Lutheran Theological Seminary in Hong Kong. From 1998-2009, he was director of the Scandinavian mission foundation, Areopagos, and from 2008-2010, dean of Tao Fong Shan in Hong Kong.

Jesus and the Other Names Paul F. Knitter, 1996-01-01

What are Christians to make of their mission in an pluralistic world, asks Paul F. Knitter, author of the landmark work in interfaith dialogue, No Other Name. As a recognized scholar and participant in interfaith dialogue, Knitter is in a unique position to explore the key concept of what Christian mission must entail in a world that will remain a world of many religious faiths for the foreseeable future. From the first chapter of Jesus and the Other Names, which recounts his own theological and dialogical odyssey, Knitter constructs what he calls a correlational, globally responsible theology of religions as a necessary correction to traditional pluralist and exclusivist approaches. By anticipating and addressing his critics, both conservative and liberal, Knitter makes a powerful argument for a reconstruction of mission faithful to the Christian imperative and dynamically attuned to the plurality of the world Jesus and the Other Names will give pause to those who believe Christian mission can be carried on as it was in the modern era Sure to inspire debate as well as dialogue it offers a more humble but perhaps more Christic postmodern approach to mission in the new millennium that has little to do with earthly glory and nothing to do with the sense of cultural superiority that has so often and often so tragically accompanied modern missionary movements Theologians missiologists Christian historians can all benefit from its thoughtful and timely message

The Gospel and Pluralism Today Scott W. Sunquist, Amos Yong, 2015-10-06 This collection of essays explores the legacy of Lesslie Newbigin's classic work The Gospel in a Pluralist Society critically analyzing the nature of Western pluralism and discussing the influence of Newbigin's work on the field of missiology By looking backward this volume advances a vision for Christian witness in the pluralistic world of the twenty first century

Walk Humbly with the Lord Viggo Mortensen, Andreas Osterund Nielsen, 2010-12-17 In June of 1910 delegates gathered in Edinburgh for the first World Missionary Conference One hundred years later the 2010 Church and Mission in a Multireligious Third Millennium conference sought to reconcile a century of seismic shifts in the worldwide landscape of the church with its ongoing mandate to make disciples of all nations Arising out of that recent conference Walk Humbly with the Lord presents a broad multinational spectrum of contemporary approaches to both theology and missiology Recognizing that the old Western notion of Christendom which formed the cultural backdrop of Edinburgh 1910 is now long obsolete the book's twenty seven forward thinking contributors respond to globalization and the enormous growth of religious pluralism worldwide offering reflections on the future of missiology and the relationship of church and mission Together they speculate about the possible shape of Christianity in a multireligious age as God works out new and unforeseen schemes in the reconciliation of the world I wish I could have been at the conference from which this book comes Viggo Mortensen and Andreas Nielsen have assembled a marvelous collection of reflections on mission that will be especially helpful to Christians committed to living faithfully and missionally in today's pluralistic world If a new postsecular reality is emerging as some are saying these essays will help the church be a sign of hope and stability in such a new age Stephen Bevans SVD Catholic Theological Union Chicago

Witnessing to Christ in a Pluralistic Age Lalsangkima Pachuau, 2011 Christian Witness in Pluralistic Contexts in the Twenty-First Century Enoch Wan, 2004-09-15 This volume is not a set of textbook answers on how to witness to Hindus Buddhists Muslims and people with other religions based on simple formulas It is the wrestlings affirmations and testimonies of those who have been deeply involved in ministries to people of other religious faiths and have thought deeply about the issues religious pluralism raises Paul G Hiebert Professor Emeritus Trinity Evangelical Divinity School

The Missiological Spirit Amos Yong, 2015-04-30 The field of the theology of mission has developed variously across Christian traditions in the last century Pentecostal scholars and missiologists also have made their share of contributions to this area This book brings the insights of pentecostal theologian Amos Yong to the discussion It delineates the major features of what will be argued as central to a viable vision and praxis for Christian mission in a postmodern post Christendom post Enlightenment post Western and postcolonial world What emerges will be a distinctively pentecostally and evangelically informed missiological theology one rooted in the Christian salvation history narrative of Incarnation and Pentecost that is yet open to the world in its many and various cultural ethnic religious and disciplinary discourses and realities The argument unfolds through dialogical engagements with the work of others concrete case studies and systematic theological reflection Yong s pneumatological and missiological imagination proffers a model for Christian theology of mission suitable for the twenty first century global and pluralistic context even as it exemplifies how a missiological understanding of theology itself unfolds amidst engagements with contemporary ecclesial practices and academic theological impulses

Introducing Christian Mission Today Michael W. Goheen, 2014-07-14 Michael Goheen gives us a full scale introduction to mission studies today in its biblical theological and historical dimensions Goheen covers the full horizon of major issues in mission including its global urban and holistic contexts This text shows how the missional church encounters the pluralism of Western culture and global religions

The Common Task Melchizedec Thomas Thangaraj, 1999 Christian mission takes place today in the context of a pluralistic world one in which the adherents of the various religious traditions are increasingly aware of and in dialogue with one another What is needed now argues Thangaraj is an understanding of Christian mission that has for its starting point a moral imperative shared by all the world s religions The author finds this common task in what he calls the mission of humanity those obligations to one another and the world which all humans share For Christians the common task will be a cruciform one it will display the self sacrifice and vulnerability of the cross rather than the grasping after power and influence of the world It will be a liberative reality marked by the gospel s concern for the poor and oppressed Finally the mission of humanity will be for Christians eschatological in nature formed by a vision of the fullness of the reign of God which is both present now and yet to come Having established this specifically Christian interpretation of the common task Thangaraj goes on to ask how it can inform our reading of Scripture and our understanding of Christian missions and how it can motivate Christian congregations for mission today

Witnessing to Christ in a Pluralistic Age Lalsangkima Pachuau, Knud Jørgensen, 2011 The relationship of Christian faith and mission to other living faiths is a core issue in contemporary mission In a world where plurality of faiths is increasingly a norm of life insights on the theology of religious plurality are needed to strengthen our understanding of our own faith and that of others Even though religious diversity is not new we are seeing an upsurge in interest on the theologies of religions among all Christian confessional traditions One reason is the discovery in the West of other religions living in Christianity s midst and neighborhood One may justifiably claim that no other issue in Christian mission is more important or more difficult than the theologies of religions This will remain a major challenge for mission in a new century Christian Mission among Other Faiths was one of the Edinburgh 2010 themes As part of the study process position papers and case studies were invited from a wide range of contributors representing various theological positions confessional traditions and denominational bodies The quality of the studies and the variety they represent convinced us to publish them in this form The position papers are reflections on the theme by scholars belonging to Roman Catholic Greek Orthodox Protestant Conciliar Protestant Evangelical Pentecostal and Seventh Day Adventist churches Among the case studies are articles on Christian mission among Muslims Hindus Buddhists Jews new religious movements and folk or primal religions

The Orthodox Churches in a Pluralistic World Emmanuel Clapsis, 2004 Churches seek to supply their people with pastoral support and theological insight even when the community's self understanding is evolving in the midst of a pluralistic environment This anthology explores various ways in which churches of the Orthodox tradition are meeting the challenges of a post modern world The authors' presentations identify contemporary opportunities for Christian witness promoting ministries of healing and renewal within a diverse society Interesting topics such as cultural identity and ethnic conflict globalization and human rights violence forgiveness and reconciliation world mission and spirituality are discussed

Context, Plurality, and Truth Mika Vähäkangas, 2020-02-10 The world has shrunk in the processes of globalization and the old ways of actively ignoring plurality in theology are no longer viable Contextual differences between different Christian traditions and theologies are highly visible due to improved communications and migration These differences also witness that this plurality has existed since the very beginning of Christianity Religious studies demonstrate that no religion is pure and hermetically sealed from others but they all are syncretistic in the sense of giving and taking In the world of religions where boundaries are porous and the internal plurality of Christianity is vast there is a temptation either to reject the plurality in a fideistic manner or succumb to relativism The first solution is intellectually hard to defend and relativism is often seen as detrimental to Christian identity This book proposes a way of recognizing the contextual and syncretistic dimensions of pluralism while not surrendering to relativism Christian identity and tradition can be affirmed while staying open to the challenges of pluralism

The Gospel Among the Nations: A Documentary History of Inculturation Hunt, Robert A, 2014-04-10 The Gospel Among the Nations brings together in a single volume the most important primary documents illustrating how Christians have dealt with the most fundamental issue of the church's mission how to translate the gospel in new cultural settings The texts range from Pope Gregory's famous instructions to Augustine of Canterbury on his mission to England to W E Hocking's fateful Attitudes toward People of Other Faiths Beginning with a masterful introduction to the theme Robert Hunt assembles scores of texts that reveal the way that missionaries church leaders and local Christians have contributed to the extension of Christianity over two millennia and thus made it truly a world religion The Gospel Among the Nations is an essential resource for students researchers and practitioners in world Christian history and mission studies

Christianity and Religious Plurality Wilbert R. Shenk, Richard J. Plantinga, 2016-10-11 Over the past two centuries the Christian faith has spread to all continents Although more global than ever Christians are religious minorities in most societies Religious freedom is hardly universal In the past fifty years millions of people have been uprooted from their traditional homelands in Asia Africa and Latin America Some have emigrated to Western Europe and North America The West has become the scene of cultural linguistic and religious variety on a scale unimagined in 1900 Today the full range of faiths and religious practices from all continents are present in Europe and North America Christians are challenged to come to terms with this changed situation These developments have intensified religious plurality Christians all over the world are being urged to understand and engage with this new situation This volume highlights this new reality and specifies some sources for engagement not least among them the Judeo Christian scriptures fundamental to all Christianities that emerged out of religious plural contexts On the basis of their faith in the Triune God disclosed in this text all followers of Jesus Christ must interact with these opportunities in today's radically context sensitive world

The Future of Christian Mission in India Augustine Kanjamala SVD, 2014-08-21 Colonial missionaries both Catholic and Protestant arrived in India with the grandiose vision of converting the pagans because like St Peter Acts 4:12 and most of the church fathers they honestly believed that there is no salvation outside the church extra ecclesiam nulla salus At the end of the great Protestant century however Christians made up less than 3 percent of the population in India and the hope of the missionary was nearly shattered But if one looks at mission in India qualitatively rather than quantitatively one sees a number of positive outcomes Missionaries in India particularly Protestant missionaries espousing the social gospel in collaboration with a few British evangelical administrators dared to challenge numerous social evils and even began to eradicate them The scientific and liberal English education began to enlighten and transform the Indian mindset Converts belonging to the upper caste although small in number laid the foundation stone of Indian theology and an inculturated church using Indian genius The end of colonialism in India coincided with the painful death of colonial mission theology Now the power of the Word of God extricated from political power is slowly and peacefully gaining ground like the mustard seed of the parable A paradigm shift from the ecclesio centric mission to missio Dei offers reason for further optimism In short the future of mission in India is as bright as the kingdom of God In today's new context theologians despite objections from some quarters are struggling to discover the Asian face of Jesus disfigured by the Greco Roman Church And the missionary is challenged to become a living Bible that undoubtedly everyone will read

Understanding Christian Mission Scott W. Sunquist, 2013-09-15 This comprehensive introduction helps students pastors and mission committees understand contemporary Christian mission historically biblically and theologically Scott Sunquist a respected scholar and teacher of world Christianity recovers missiological thinking from the early church for the twenty first century He traces the mission of the church throughout history in order to address the global church and offers a constructive theology and practice for missionary work today Sunquist views spirituality as the foundation for all mission involvement for mission practice springs from spiritual formation He highlights the Holy Spirit in the work of mission and emphasizes its trinitarian nature Sunquist explores mission from a primarily theological rather than sociological perspective showing that the whole of Christian theology depends on and feeds into mission Throughout the book he presents Christian mission as our participation in the suffering and glory of Jesus Christ for the redemption of the nations      Making Sense of Religious Pluralism Alan Race,2013-06-20 Is Christian faith the only or best route to relationship with God New relationships shared common action and dialogue between people whose experiences differ are changing the way Christian theologians are thinking about religious pluralism No longer objects of ridicule or condemnation world religions are genuine vehicles of spiritual vision capable of transforming human hearts and minds It has taken Christian theology many years to come to this point and there is no going back Alan Race is an outstanding expert in the interreligious field and has throughout his career and ministry built up a high reputation for understanding and dialogue between faith communities Here he deals with the use of Scripture inclusivism and exclusivism pluralism and particularism mission and dialogue The next phase of Christian thought he argues will be shaped by new appreciation and insight stemming from the fact that Christianity is one religion among many

Living Faithfully in a Fragmented World Jonathan R. Wilson,1998-06-01 This book describes several aspects of contemporary culture that create both opportunities and threats to Christian mission It offers insights and practices that the church today must embrace in order to live faithfully and witness effectively to the gospel Following a presentation of the church s history in relation to Western culture several chapters draw upon specific suggestions in Alasdair MacIntyre s After Virtue that we live in a fragmented rather than a pluralistic world how the church has compromised its faithfulness by accommodating the mainstream of morality implications stemming from the collapse of the Enlightenment project and the need for a new monasticism together with forms the life of the church must take to sustain a faithful witness in contemporary culture Jonathan R Wilson is Associate Professor of Systematic Theology and Chair of the Department of Religious Studies Westmont College Santa Barbara CA and the author of Theology as Cultural Critique      Confessing Christ as Lord of All in a Pluralistic World Al Truesdale,2021-10
