Christianity In An Age Of Terrorism:

Christianity in an Age of Terrorism Gene Edward Veith, 2002 A Christian response to terrorism from a Lutheran point of view Discusses religious war and warns against generic religion and secularism The World's Edition of the Great Presbyterian Conflict. Patton Vs. S. ... Containing ... the Fourteen Sermons Preached by Prof. S. "for Utterances in Which" the Prosecution Has Based Its Charges of Heterodoxy, Etc David SWING, 1874 The World's Edition of the Great Presbyterian Conflict: Patton Vs. Swing David Swing, 1874 David Swing's Sermons David Swing, 1874 The World's Edition of the Great Presbyterian Conflict David Swing, 1874 Human Security, Law and the Prevention of Terrorism Andrej Zwitter, 2010-11-23 This study examines two important questions regarding terrorism and political violence which threats to human security constitute root causes for collective violence and which adequate responses for these root causes are available to the international community The responses are examined on the basis of international law in particular human rights law and within the concept of human security with the goal of fostering a long term reduction in political violence Drawing on existing political discussions and research about the root causes of terrorism Zwitter develops a legal framework for the application of legal terrorism prevention tools This study serves as a framework of action and analysis using concepts and particularly legal frameworks which are already broadly or universally recognized to increase the applicability of the framework without having to invent new legal regimes In doing so it makes use of the concept of human security for tackling breeding grounds and other facilitators of terrorism making it universally accessible Combining social science research with legal sociology and international law this book will be of interest to students and scholars of politics international relations security studies conflict studies and law Christianity in South and Central Asia Kenneth R. Ross, 2019-03-14 This comprehensive reference volume covers every country in South and Central Asia offering reliable demographic information and original interpretative essays by indigenous scholars and practitioners It maps patterns of growth and decline assesses major traditions and movements analyses key themes and examines current trends The Christian Century, 1918 Female Terrorism and Militancy Cindy D. Ness, 2007-12-11 This edited volume provides a window on the many forces that structure and shape why women and girls participate in terrorism and militancy as well as on how states have come to view treat and strategize against them Females who carry out terrorist acts have historically been seen as mounting a challenge to the social order by violating conventional notions of gender and power and their participation in such acts has tended to be viewed as being either as a passive victim or a feminist warrior This volume seeks to move beyond these portrayals to examine some of the structuring conditions that play a part in a girl or woman's decision to commit violence Amidst the contextual factors informing her involvement the volume seeks also to explore the political agency of the female terrorist or militant Several of the articles are based on research where authors had direct contact with female terrorists or militants who committed acts of political violence or with witnesses to such acts American Christians and Islam Thomas S. Kidd, 2018-06-05 In the wake of the September 11 terrorist attacks many of America's Christian evangelicals have denounced Islam as a demonic and inherently violent religion provoking frustration among other Christian conservatives who wish to present a more appealing message to the world's Muslims Yet as Thomas Kidd reveals in this sobering book the conflicted views expressed by today's evangelicals have deep roots in American history Tracing Islam's role in the popular imagination of American Christians from the colonial period to today Kidd demonstrates that Protestant evangelicals have viewed Islam as a global threat while also actively seeking to convert Muslims to the Christian faith since the nation's founding He shows how accounts of Mahometan despotism and lurid stories of European enslavement by Barbary pirates fueled early evangelicals' fears concerning Islam and describes the growing conservatism of American missions to Muslim lands up through the post World War II era Kidd exposes American Christians' anxieties about an internal Islamic threat from groups like the Nation of Islam in the 1960s and America's immigrant Muslim population today and he demonstrates why Islam has become central to evangelical end times narratives Pointing to many evangelicals' unwillingness to acknowledge Islam's theological commonalities with Christianity and their continued portrayal of Islam as an evil and false religion Kidd explains why Christians themselves are ironically to blame for the failure of evangelism in the Muslim world American Christians and Islam is essential reading for anyone seeking to understand the causes of the mounting tensions between Christians and Muslims today American Book Publishing Record, 2003 Religion and Terrorism, 2003

Civil Society, Religion and Global Governance Helen James, 2007-04-11 This is one of the first books to explore the nexus between civil society religion and global governance their impact on human security and well being and significance for current debates in international politics The contributors examine salient aspects of the secular state whose monopoly on and control of institutional violence has reified its use of power to such an extent that the modernistic separation of church and state is being called into question as institutional limits are sought to the abuse of that power The volume is clearly divided into six key sections human security and human rights the politics of civil religion the ethics of civil development civil society and global governance cross cultural perspectives on institutional development for civil society international civil society Within these sections the illuminating case studies span a wide geographical extent from Central and Eastern Europe to Egypt to Latin America Iran Bangladesh Australia the Pacific and East and Southeast Asia Civil Society Religion and Global Governance will be of strong interest to students policy makers and researchers in the fields of human rights religion political science and sociology Great Authors of All Ages Samuel Austin Allibone,1879
