Christian Boltanski, Catalogue Christian Boltanski, Günter Metken, 1992 Christian Boltanski born in Paris in 1944 and one of France's best known artists of the postwar generation has developed a highly personal and often disconcerting oeuvre that challenges basic assumptions of what constitutes an artwork Using media as diverse as newspaper clippings used clothes amateur snapshots and flickering shadows Boltanski forges an original universe in which he is frequently the central protagonist One of Boltanski's favorite themes is his own life story both actual and reinvented which he evokes through startling collections of photographs and objects In other pieces he assembles seemingly mundane elements to address some of the most fundamental and disturbing contradictions of twentieth century life In a beautifully written and erudite essay art historian Lynn Gumpert analyzes and provides a context for these haunting works that have the unsettling ability to be merry and morbid at the same time With over 150 black and white and 50 color illustrations that span the entire range of Boltanski's production materials and influences this insightful monograph the first to be published in English is essential reading for collectors art historians students and anyone interested in contemporary art      Memory & Oblivion A.W. Reinink, Jeroen Stumpel, 2012-12-06 Memory is a subject that recently has attracted many scholars and readers not only in the general historical sciences but also in the special field of art history However in this book in which more than 130 papers given at the XXIXth International Congress of the History of Art Amsterdam 1996 have been compiled Memory is also juxtaposed to its counterpart Oblivion thus generating extra excitement in the exchange of ideas The papers are presented in eleven sections each of which is devoted to a different aspect of memory and oblivion ranging from purely material aspects of preservation to social phenomena with regard to art collecting from the memory of the art historian to workshop practices from art in antiquity to the newest media from Buddhist iconography to the Berlin Wall The book addresses readers in the field of history history of art and psychology      New Art Examiner ,1991 The independent voice of the visual arts      Flash Art ,1992
