Christian Missionizing And Social Transformation A History Of Conflict And Change In Eastern Zaire:

Christian Missionizing and Social Transformation Jack Edward Nelson, 1989      Christian Missionizing and Social Transformation Jack Nelson, 1992-05-30 This volume represents a case study of African responses to American missionary efforts in colonial and post colonial Zaire Jack Nelson describes how conflict emerged when missionary attempts to control the rate and nature of change and to protect the church community from corrupting Western influences confronted African aspirations to overcome foreign domination through education and economic means Nelson relates an account of social forces transforming the missionaries designs in the midst of colonial efforts the encroachment of a cash economy the rise of nationalism and political struggles and the formation of social classes As a sociology of religion study Christian Missionizing and Social Transformation analyzes both the changing social context in which a very prominent church community in Zaire was founded and developed and how the dynamics of change influenced African responses to missionary educational and evangelizing efforts As a historical study it documents one of the most severe struggles between a church community and a mission organization that occurred in the wake of Zairian independence As a critique of American missionary practices the study probes the ideals of a popular philosophy of mission and the reality of the implementation of that philosophy As a study of the nature of the difficulties and conflicts within an African church it offers considerable insight into the manner in which Africans are coping with the missionary legacy the professionalizing of African clergy the church as a development organization and the ongoing efforts on the part of African theological students to produce an indigenous theology

Violent Capitalism and Hybrid Identity in the Eastern Congo Timothy Raeymaekers, 2014-12-18 This book discusses the radical transformation of eastern Congo s political order in the context of apparent armed destruction and state weakness Looking beyond the dominant paradigms the author critically assesses the premises of this region s presumed collapse into chaos He traces violent rule patterns back to a tumultuous history of extra economic accumulation armed rebellion and de facto public authority in the margins of regional power plays Rather than curing the world s ills the originality of this book lies in its neat focus on cultural and economic uncertainty It answers the question of what institutional changes are the result of strategies of daily risk management in an environment characterised by violent competition over the right to govern

When Helping Works Michael Bamwesigye Badriaki, 2017-05-03 Today people from various parts of the world who are interested in helping fellow human beings impacted by famine epidemics wars and poverty are uniquely positioned They are interconnected due to globalization s impact which also has implications for intercultural work and global missions The ability to help people is a constructive asset which calls for the need to build friendships and partnerships across the globe Helping well depends on a number of factors yet this book looks into the impact of stereotype threat and its effects on intercultural identities the perceptions of others and performance in intercultural missions Human interactions continue to suffer due to fears anxious reactions about confirming negative stereotypes about a person s identity abilities and effectiveness in global missions Stereotype threat happens when caricatures and negative understandings about people's identities are invoked

Migration and Christian Identity in Congo (DRC) Emma Wild-Wood, 2008-08-31 Christianity and migration have greatly influenced society and culture of sub-Saharan Africa yet their mutual impact is rarely studied Through oral history research in north-eastern Congo DRC this book studies the migration of Anglicans and the subsequent reconfiguring of their Christian identity It engages with issues of religious contextualisation revivalism and the rise of Pentecostalism It examines shifting ethnic national gender and generational expressions the influence of tradition contemporaneity local needs and international networks to reveal mobile group identities developing through migration Borrowing the metaphor of home from those interviewed the book suggests in what ways religious affiliation aids a process of belonging The result is an original exploration of important themes in an often neglected region of Africa

Encounters with Emotions Benno Gammerl, Philipp Nielsen, Margrit Pernau, 2019-06-06 Spanning Europe Asia and the Pacific Encounters with Emotions investigates experiences of face to face transcultural encounters from the seventeenth century to the present and the emotional dynamics that helped to shape them Each of the case studies collected here investigates fascinating historiographical questions that arise from the study of emotion from the strategies people have used to interpret and understand each other's emotions to the roles that emotions have played in obstructing communication across cultural divides Together they explore the cultural aspects of nature as well as the bodily dimensions of nurture and trace the historical trajectories that shape our understandings of current cultural boundaries and effects of globalization

Sexual Violence Crimes and Gendered Power Relations Bilge Sahin, 2020-10-29 This book provides a robust gendered analysis and establishes a feminist approach to international actors' responses to sexual violence crimes in conflict in eastern Democratic Republic of the Congo DRC and the impact of these global political practices on local gendered power relations Sexual violence crimes in eastern DRC have received significant global attention and triggered calls by the international community to end this violence This book critically assesses international assistance to the Congolese legal system to challenge sexual violence crimes to determine to what extent it engages with the continuum of gendered violence from peacetime to conflict It also examines whether international assistance has produced any transformations in gendered power relations in eastern DRC The author investigates how challenging sexual violence crimes in conflict necessitates broader female empowerment and engagement with gendered power relations This book will be of interest to scholars and postgraduate students in gender studies development studies and international relations It will also provide significant guidance for professionals working for development agencies and international NGOs focusing on eastern DRC
