Kent,2011-05-01 In recent decades biblical scholars have often drawn from the wells of literary theory when seeking to better understand the art of biblical narrative This innovative work adds to these insights by applying film theory to the analysis of story in the Hebrew Bible Kent argues that film theory helps us to attain much greater clarity in our appreciation of the functions of narrative repetition This book offers a synchronic exegesis of Saul s night visit to the witch of En Dor 1 Sam 28 3 25 focussing on the web of repetitions of visual elements of symbols of sounds of entire scenes and of keywords Kent shows how an artistry of repetition and non repetition helps to build characterization plot and structure as well as prophetic fulfilments foreshadowing and inter textual warnings Anyone interested in biblical narrative and the Hebrew Bible will find here new questions and techniques and a wider repertoire of tools offering fresh understandings

Kallenberg,2011-01-01 Technologies are deeply embedded in the modern West What would our lives be like without asphalt glass gasoline electricity window screens or indoor plumbing We naturally praise technology when it is useful and bemoan it when it is not But there is much more to technology than the usefulness of this or that artifact Unfortunately we tend not to consider the inherently social and moral character of technology As a result we are prone to overlook the effects of technology on our spiritual lives This book investigates the role technology plays in helping and hampering our Christian practice and witness

Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004 Perspectives on Science and Christian Faith ,1998 Religion Index Two ,1996 Religious and Theological Abstracts ,2007 The Christian Librarian ,1995 Religion and the Environment: Connections: science, ethics, eco-feminism, consumerism, sustainability and spirituality Roger S. Gottlieb,2010 In the last two decades a new form of religiously motivated social action and a virtually new field of academic study each based in recognition of the connections between religion and humanity's treatment of the environment have developed. Interactions between religion and environmental concern have been manifest in the explosive growth of ecotheological writings, institutional commitment by organized religions, and environmental activism explicitly oriented to religious ideals. Clergy throughout the world in virtually every denomination have received word from leaders of their religion that the environment no less than sexuality, poverty, or war and peace is now a basic and compelling religious matter. Out of this confrontation have been born vital new theologies based in the recovery of marginalized elements of tradition, profound criticisms of the past, and ecologically oriented visions of God, the Sacred, the Earth, and human beings. Theologians from every religious tradition along with dozens of non-denominational spiritual writers have confronted world religions' past attitudes towards nature. In the realm of institutional commitment, public statements and actions by organized religions have grown dramatically. In the context of political action throughout the U.S. and the world, religiously oriented groups take part in environmentally oriented political action from lobbying and consciousness raising to activist demonstrations and civil disobedience. This collection serves as a comprehensive introduction, overview, and in-depth account of these exciting new developments. The four volumes cover virtually every aspect of the field from theological change and institutional commitment to innovation in liturgy from new ecumenical connections among different religions and between religion, science, and environmental movements from religious participation in environmental politics to an account of the global social and political contexts in which religious environmentalism has unfolded.

Based on a wide-ranging survey of environmental literature, it offers an overview of current green virtue language, dubbed 'dirty virtues', as well as the basic elements of a matching ecological virtue theory. Highlighting the integrity, diversity, internal tensions, dynamism, and visionary character of this ecological virtue language, Louke van Wensveen shows both its historical roots and innovative features. She includes a unique catalog of 189 virtues and 174 vices that mark the vision and praxis of people committed to ecological flourishing. Jacket Earth, Empire, and Sacred Text David L. Johnston, 2010 Earth, Empire, and Sacred Text examines the Muslim-Christian theology of creation and humanity, aiming to construct a dialogue to enable both faiths to work together to preserve our planet, to bring justice to its most needy inhabitants, and to contribute to peace building. Earth, Empire, and Sacred Text opens with an analysis of The Catholic Periodical and Literature Index, 2003
