Senie, 2025-01-13 A comprehensive guide to addressing the present day challenges of commemorating the past As debates over historical monuments and their meanings unfold Memorials Now offers a critical exploration of how communities can navigate the complex terrain of commemorative practices From controversial statues to emerging forms of public memory the topics covered in this timely volume provide insights into historical challenges while also encouraging a more inclusive and just memorial landscape for the future Authors Cher Krause Knight and Harriet F Senie explore evolving narratives of heroes and victims ethical challenges of memorial design strategies for promoting inclusivity and possibilities for alternative forms of commemoration Memorials Now analyzes case studies from around the world in which communities are rethinking their memorials and creating innovative memorialization projects that reflect shifting cultural values Memorials Now is ideal for students and educators in art history architecture urban planning and cultural studies as well as professionals in fields such as public art city planning museum curation and civic engagement Art of the 20th Century Karl Ruhrberg, Klaus Honnef, Manfred Schneckenburger, Christiane Fricke, 2000 The original edition of this ambitious reference was published in hardcover in 1998 in two oversize volumes 10x13 This edition combines the two volumes into one it s paperbound flexi cover the paper has a plastic coating smaller 8x10 and affordable for art book buyers with shallower pockets none of whom should pass it by The scope is encyclopedic half the work originally the first volume is devoted to painting the other half to sculpture new media and photography Chapters are arranged thematically and each page displays several examples in color of work under discussion The final section a lexicon of artists includes a small bandw photo of each artist as well as biographical information and details of work writings and exhibitions Ruhrberg and the three other authors are veteran art historians curators and writers as is editor Walther c Book News Inc Christo and Jeanne-Claude Jacob Baal-Teshuva,Wolfgang Volz,2001

Identity, gender and the performative in Christo and Jeanne-Claude's work Joachim Stark,2010-12-07

Essay from the year 2006 in the subject Art Installation Action Performance Art Modern Art grade good The Open University Department of Art History course Themes and issues in Contemporary Art History language English abstract This essay tries to point out that Christo and Jeanne Claude s work deals with concepts of identity gender and the performative ideas which inform a great deal of the art that has been produced since the 1960s These aspects in the work of the two artists have generally been overlooked due perhaps to the gigantism of many of their projects realized since the end of the 1960s like Wrapped Coast 1968 69 Australia Valley Curtain 1970 72 USA Surrounded Islands 1980 83 USA Pont Neuf Wrapped 1975 85 France Wrapped Reichstag 1971 1995 Germany or The Gates 2005 USA Questions of identity gender and performance have not really been adressed in interpretations of Chisto and Jeanne Claude s work But at least since 2002 there are statements by Christo himself which make clear that identity and gender have indeed been on his mind and that there also was quite early a link to Dada and Surrealism In this respect it is certainly relevant that in 1963 Christo met Marcel Duchamp who until 1968 the year of Duchamp s death remained a friend and supporter Christo s wrappings imply the blurring of identities they transform male forms into feminine forms or even try to introduce the impression of the formless a concept developed by George Bataille The performative points in the same direction The concept of performance will have to be modified and enlarged in the case of Christo and Jeanne Claude as ther performances are not bound to a specific time and location for instance in a gallery or a theatre The performances often extend over several years or even decades and imply the presence of the artists at numerous different locations Here the aspect of politics comes into view As their environmental installations involve public buildings and or public spaces and often extend over huge distances a considerable number of different interests for instance those of the political authorities private landowners pressure groups the media have to be taken into account Thus political processes serve the aim of realizing a work of art and not the other way round

The Political Economy of Art Julie F. Codell,2008 Political economy is defined in this volume as collective state or corporate support for art and architecture in the public sphere intended to be accessible to the widest possible public raising questions about the relationship of the state to cultural production and consumption This collection of essays explores the political economy of art from the perspective of the artist or from analysis of art s production and consumption emphasizing the art side of the relationship between art and state This volume explores art as public good a central issue in political economy Essays examine specific cultural spaces as points of struggle between economic and cultural processes Essays focus on three areas of conflict theories of political economy put into practices of state cultural production sculptural and architectural monuments commissioned by state and corporate entities and conflicts and critiques of state investments in culture by artists and the public amazon com edit desc

Sport and Art Andrew Edgar, 2016-04-08 Sport and Art explores relationship of sport to art It does not argue that sport is one of the arts but rather that sport and art hold common ground Both are ways in which humans confront philosophical challenges though they do this through very different media While art deploys sensual media such as paint or sound sport is the pursuit of a physical challenge at which the athlete may fail This is to propose in an argument that has its roots in Hegel's aesthetics that sport may be interpreted as a way of reflecting upon metaphysical and normative issues such as the nature of human freedom fate and chance and even our sense of space and time This argument is developed by proposing the concept of a sportworld an atmosphere of theory and a knowledge of history through which an event is interpreted and thereby constituted as sport Ultimately Sport and Art argues that in order to be truly appreciated sport must be understood within a modernist aesthetics That is to say that sport is not about beauty but rather about the struggle to find meaning in sporting triumph and crucially sporting failure This book was published as a special issue of Sport Ethics and Philosophy dreams of automation The global reach of the artists considered reflects the geographies of supply chain capitalism itself In taking stock of how performance sculpture and popular culture are entangled in trade and racialized labor regimes Boyle profiles influential work by artists such as Christo and Allan Kaprow alongside that of contemporary figures including Cai Guo Qiang and Selina Thompson This incisive study demonstrates that art and logistics are linked by the infrastructures and violence that keep supply chains moving
