Christoph Martin Wieland Werke 5vol:

Christoph Martin Wieland , Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks, Volume 4 Søren Kierkegaard, 2011-07-25

For over a century the Danish thinker Søren Kierkegaard 1813-55 has been at the center of a number of important discussions concerning not only philosophy and theology but also more recently fields such as social thought, psychology and contemporary aesthetics especially literary theory. Despite his relatively short life Kierkegaard was an extraordinarily prolific writer as attested to by the 26 volume Princeton University Press edition of all of his published writings. But Kierkegaard left behind nearly as much unpublished writing most of which consists of what are called his journals and notebooks. Kierkegaard has long been recognized as one of history's great journal keepers but only rather small portions of his journals and notebooks are what we usually understand by the term diaries. By far the greater part of Kierkegaard's journals and notebooks consists of reflections on a myriad of subjects: philosophical, religious, political, personal. Studying his journals and notebooks takes us into his workshop where we can see his entire universe of thought. We can witness the genesis of his published works to be sure but we can also see whole galaxies of concepts, new insights and fragments large and small of partially or almost entirely completed but unpublished works. Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks enables us to see the thinker in dialogue with his times and with himself. Volume 4 of this 11 volume series includes the first five of Kierkegaard's well known NB journals which contain in addition to a great many reflections on his own life a wealth of thoughts on theological matters as well as on Kierkegaard's times including political developments and the daily press. Kierkegaard wrote his journals in a two column format: one for his initial entries and the second for the extensive marginal comments that he added later. This edition of the journals reproduces this format, includes several photographs of original manuscript pages and contains extensive scholarly commentary on the various entries and on the history of the manuscripts being reproduced.

Circulations libertines dans le roman européen, 1736-1803 Emmanuelle Buis, 2011 Cette thèse a pour objet l'étude des influences du libertinage galant anglais et français sur la création allemande du dernier tiers du XVIII^e siècle. Le succès de diffusion outre Rhin de quatre romans de séduction emblématiques du genre Clarisse Harlowe, Les Égaréments du cœur et de l'esprit, Le Paysan pervers et Les Liaisons dangereuses plusieurs fois traduits et commentés par la critique contemporaine légitime la recherche d'eux au sein de la production allemande de la fin du siècle. Le recensement de preuves scientifiques d'intraveux d'influences, commentaires critiques ou intertextualité explicite conduit à signer six crivains germaniques lecteurs enthousiastes dont l'œuvre est entrée en résonance avec la tradition du libertinage galant. Christoph Martin Wieland, Sophie von La Roche, Wilhelm Heinse, Ludwig Tieck, Clemens Brentano et Jean Paul Rivelé par la confrontation des romans allemands avec les œuvres sources, la reprise des motifs essentiels du libertinage galant, typologie des personnages stratagèmes de conquête et épisodes clés des intrigues n'est pas dissociable d'une pratique du détournement, l'usage parodique de certains procédés narratifs traditionnels et les jeux d'imitation vici et témoignent d'une prise de distance dans laquelle s'affirment la fois l'originalité des héros et la sensibilité plus germanique d'une littérature en plein essor. Reorientant de manière significative certains principes fondamentaux de la quete galante, les dernières œuvres allemandes influencent la doctrine libertine initiale et ouvrent sur de nouvelles interrogations existentielles qui annoncent les figures d'enchantement du XIX^e.
