Chris Pratt - The Biography Joe Allan, 2015-06-04 CHRIS PRATT is now one of the world's most sought after actors. As the breakout star of Marvel's Guardians of the Galaxy and The Lego Movie two of 2014's biggest box office hits as well as landing the lead role in the 2015 Jurassic Park franchise re-boot Jurassic World his meteoric rise to fame is proof that anything is possible in Hollywood. Chris's journey to the movie star A-list may just make him the ultimate zero to hero but it certainly wasn't an overnight success story. A chance encounter transformed Chris's life from living in a van and waiting tables to make enough money to survive to the bright lights of Los Angeles and his first tentative steps into the acting world. After years as a supporting player in both comedy and dramatic roles on television Everwood Parks and Recreation and in movies The Five Year Engagement Delivery Man Chris finally started to attract superstar buzz after appearing in three Best Picture Oscar nominated films between 2011 and 2013. Along the way he's shown that nice guys don't always finish last juggling a successful movie career and life as a devoted family man and somehow finding time to develop killer abs along the way.

A Painter's Poems Christopher Pratt, 2005 A Painter's Poems comprises poetry that Pratt has written over the past 50 years, echoing his career as a painter. They are autobiographical pages from a diary. They respond to encounters with people, places and events that have had particular significance and impact on his working life. My poetry is a personal exorcism. I am aware that exorcism is not always art. It is a self-portrait. Random pages from a diary in code and portraits of others, friends, anonymous given the protection of pronouns. I use simple language, some poetry glitters and illuminates like a foyer chandelier. I think mine as a single light bulb in a porch. Christopher Pratt 1999.

realism of Christopher Pratt's art is at first glance deceptively simple. But behind the recognizable images lie deeper meanings. Pratt's search for a reality that is magical and mysterious gives his work its uncanny and haunting qualities. Since the day in the mid 1950s when Pratt first saw the painting Early Sunday Morning by the renowned American realist Edward Hopper, he has perfected his ability to represent the qualities of natural and artificial light. Pratt stands in the line of other great Canadian artists including Alex Colville, Lawren P. Harris, Jean Paul Lemieux, and Lionel LeMoine Fitzgerald, all of whom influenced him, and the way he represents the land. Others who figured in his development include Americans Winslow Homer, Edward Hopper, and Thomas Eakins. The unique and beautiful island of Newfoundland, with its culture, history, geography, and weather, has also influenced his work. This handsomely designed book, published in association with the Art Gallery of Sudbury, traces Pratt's development as a painter and printmaker from his early watercolors through to the iconic paintings of his mature years. It features more than 100 works, all beautifully reproduced, many of which have never been published before. Christopher Pratt was born in 1935 in St. John's, Newfoundland. He studied at the Glasgow School of Art and at Mount Allison University in Sackville, New Brunswick, and is universally acknowledged as one of the most important Canadian artists of the period. His work is included in the permanent collections of the National Gallery of Canada, the Vancouver Art Gallery, the Art Gallery of Ontario, the McMichael Canadian Art Collection, the Beaverbrook Art Gallery, the Musée d'Art Contemporain of Montreal, and Memorial University of Newfoundland, as well as in private and corporate collections in North America and around the world. He is represented by the Mira Godard Gallery in Toronto. Pratt lives and works in the village of St. Mary's Bay on the Salmonier River in Newfoundland. Over the years, he has exhibited both nationally and internationally, with exhibitions in New York (1976, at Canada House Cultural Centre Gallery), in London, England (an exhibition that traveled to Paris, Brussels, and Dublin in 1982-83), and at the 49th Parallel Gallery in New York (1988).

The Cause of Art Jeff

Webb, 2024-05-01. In 1949, Newfoundland and Labrador had a widely celebrated oral culture but little visual art. After entering the Canadian federation, recreational painters worked to create a venue for the display of art. The Cause of Art tells the story of the advocates, curators, and professional artists who laid the foundation for an artistic community in the province. The Memorial University Art Gallery was the site of a struggle between recreational painters who aspired to express their creative impulse and develop a Newfoundland art, and curators who wanted artists to participate in the Canadian art market and international artistic movements. The book recounts the history of passionate and strong-willed curators and cultural administrators who fought for control of the gallery. It reveals how they appealed to competing conceptions of professionalization, as well as diverse political and aesthetic preferences. Based on extensive archival research in previously unexamined collections and oral interviews with key informants, this book examines a cultural institution that is widely remembered as the centre of the cultural renaissance in late twentieth-century Newfoundland and Labrador. As a result, The Cause of Art illuminates the relationship between the state and the university during a key period in the modernization of the
