Applications and Practices for Empowering Neurodivergent Learners Waldock, Krysia Emily,Keates, Nathan,2025-07-25 Empowering neurodivergent learners requires a shift from standardized education toward inclusive practices that recognize and support diversity Effective applications and practices offer multiple means of engagement representation and expression to accommodate varying learning styles Assistive technologies play a key role in enhancing access and participation Personalized learning plans sensory friendly environments and trauma informed teaching strategies create supportive spaces where neurodivergent individuals can thrive These practices also foster self advocacy encourage autonomy and involve learners in decisions about their education By prioritizing flexibility empathy and collaboration educators and institutions can create pathways that accommodate neurodivergence Applications and Practices for Empowering Neurodivergent Learners explores the integration of inclusive learning strategies to accommodate neurodivergent learners in education It examines applications and practices for effective learning accessibility and personalized education This book covers topics such as digital technology personalized learning and pedagogy and is a useful resource for educators sociologists academicians researchers and scientists Journey through the MILtiverse UNESCO,2024-11-29 Supporting Innovative

Pedagogies with Digital Technologies Michelle Mukherjee,Christopher Blundell,Shaun Nykvist,2024-06-13 The text explores intentional approaches for using digital technologies in the classroom as a tool to support established strategies

Surveillance Education Nolan Higdon,Allison Butler,2024-08-02 Surveillance Education explores the pervasive use of digital surveillance technologies in schools and assesses its pernicious effects on students Recognizing that the use of digital technologies will persist the authors instead offer practical ways to ameliorate their impact In our era of surveillance capitalism digital media technologies are ever more intertwined into the educational process Schools are presented with digital technologies as tools of convenience for gathering and grading student work as tools of support to foster a more equitable learning environment and as tools of safety for predicting or preventing violence or monitoring mental emotional and physical health Despite a dearth of evidence to confirm their effectiveness digital data collection and tracking is often presented as a way to improve educational outcomes and safety This book challenges these fallacious assumptions and argues that the use of digital media technologies has caused great harm to students by subjecting them to oppressive levels of surveillance impinging upon their right to privacy and harvesting their personal data on behalf of Big Tech In doing so the authors draw upon interviews from K 12 and higher education students teachers and staff civil rights and technology lawyers and educational technological programmers The authors also provide practical guidance for teachers administrators students and their families seeking to identify and combat surveillance in education This urgent eye opening book will be of interest to students and educators with interests in critical media literacy and pedagogy and the sociology of technology and education
