Fletcher, 2025-05-21 The role of AI in education is slowly growing. As a new technology, its uses and capabilities have not been fully realized or understood. AI provides many opportunities as well as challenges for supporting students, teachers, and skills development. However, from higher education faculty to preschool teachers, the ways in which AI can support planning, research, and student learning are not fully understood. When harnessed effectively, AI has important implications for overcoming global concerns and increasing educational equality. Examining AI Disruption in Educational Settings: Challenges and Opportunities provides practical, researched examples of how AI has been applied in educational settings. It examines current AI policies and considers the ways in which education may change with the use of AI. Covering topics such as field experience, preparation, critical thinking skills, and global education patterns, this book is an excellent resource for pre-service teachers, in-service teachers, higher education faculty, technologists, professionals, researchers, scholars, academicians, and more.      Innovation and Experiential Learning in Academic Libraries Sarah Nagle, Elias Tzoc, 2022-03-15 As technology advances and the skills required for the future workforce continue to change rapidly, academic libraries have begun to expand the definition of information literacy and the type of library services they provide to better prepare students for the constantly developing world they will face upon graduation. More than teaching the newest technologies, information literacy is expanding to help students develop enduring skills such as critical thinking, creativity, problem-solving, communication, teamwork, and more. Innovation and Experiential Learning in Academic Libraries: Meeting the Needs of 21st Century Students addresses the multitude of ways that academic librarians are collaborating with faculty and helping students develop these enduring skills by developing and integrating active and experiential learning approaches into teaching activities. This book is divided into three sections. The first section explores the role that library leaders play in supporting and advocating for innovation in information literacy and library services. The second section features case studies from librarians who are implementing novel and multidisciplinary approaches to information literacy and innovative services such as maker scholarship digital humanities undergraduate research experiences and new active learning strategies These case studies also highlight how the COVID 19 pandemic has transformed teaching and learning in academic libraries The final section looks to the future providing guidance to information professionals on the issues and technologies that will drive transformations of information literacy in the coming years such as artificial intelligence and new information literacy applications As such library administrators academic librarians information literacy practitioners and technologists will benefit from this book Proceedings of the ...
