Postfeminism, Postrace and Digital Politics in Asian American Food Blogs Tisha Dejmanee, 2022-12-26 This book examines how Asian American women bloggers challenge dominant race and gender discourses through the practice of food blogging Asian American food blogs which situate recipes and food photography within the personal narratives and domestic spaces of Asian American women offer unique insights into the ways that hegemonic race and gender discourses are negotiated in quotidian life The genre's focus on food provides a particularly rich backdrop for this study as it necessarily implicates family histories gendered labour domestic spaces and the power dynamics of consumption These intimate digital texts therefore provide unique insights into the ways that postfeminist and postrace discourses are encountered in the individual's mundane experiences The author engages a critical cultural analysis of food blogs narratives images communities and platforms expressions of post race and feminism discourses are constrained by the commercial logics of this digital culture The author argues that while Asian American food blogs rarely present a sustained challenge to hegemonic identity representation the processes of reproduction and rupture that define this blogosphere consistently reveal the collective desire to push back against the limits of post identities This is a unique and fascinating study which is ideal reading for students and scholars of gender studies media studies cultural studies and sociology

Sociology, Work, and Organisations Brian McDonough, Jane Parry, 2024-10-23 This accessible edited collection provides global context for undergraduate and postgraduate students studying the sociology of work and organisations Composed of short example led chapters this book covers a wide range of contemporary topics including the COVID 19 pandemic the digitalisation of work the gig economy and the shifting roles of women and other marginalised groups The book's innovative approach uses case studies as diverse as work life balance in China gender pay inequity in Britain and Germany and the exploitation of workers on the Mexico US border to incorporate perspectives from both the Global North and South and provide students with the tools to analyse new developments in the rapidly changing world of work The book is particularly concerned with inequalities and marginalisation in the workplace discussing discrimination against women ethnic minorities migrants and older workers The book also explores how increasing digitalisation the rise of the gig economy and the COVID 19 pandemic have impacted working practices and how this relates to precarious employment Other chapters are dedicated to issues of workplace organisation including female leadership work life balance and well being The book goes on to explore how climate change and policies such as Universal Basic Income may shape the future of work in the near future Each chapter also includes useful pedagogical resources including practice exam questions key concepts and definitions and further readings Therefore the book will be therefore essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students studying the sociology of work business management and organisation Research on Technology in English Education Carl A. Young,Sara Kajder,2013-03-01 This book brings together the voices of leading English Education researchers who work to offer views into the changing landscape of English as a result of the use of digital media in classrooms out of school settings universities and other contexts in which readers and writers work But as in most useful texts the purpose is more nuanced and far reaching than simply offering a glimpse into where we currently find ourselves as a field In sum the collection brings together and interweaves what we are coming to know and understand about teaching English within a shifting digital landscape as well as the implications for teacher education and the discipline of English Education specifically The intended audience for this particular book is English educators doctoral candidates in the field of English education researchers and scholars in the field and English language arts teachers especially those interested in the impact digital technologies can have in our field
