Youth and Employment in Sub-Saharan Africa Hiroyuki Hino, Gustav Ranis, 2014-06-05 It is widely acknowledged that youth unemployment is one of the most critical challenges facing countries in Sub Saharan Africa This volume brings together an eminent group of international scholars to analyse the extent and complex nature of this joblessness and offer a set of evidence based policy choices that could contribute to solving the problem in the short and long run Part I reviews the existing literature on youth unemployment and underemployment in Sub Saharan Africa from microeconomic and macroeconomic perspectives while Part II goes on to present detailed country studies of Ethiopia Ghana Kenya and South Africa These studies offer a deep understanding of the situation on the ground and consider country specific solutions Throughout the book it is argued that the standard ILO definition of unemployment is too narrow to correctly portray employment situations in Sub Saharan Africa Several alternative measures of unemployment are presented which show that joblessness is far more pervasive than commonly assumed in the literature This volume will be of interest to academics and policy makers involved in African development

Thrive Lisa M. Lawson, 2025-09-16 A bold new argument for harnessing brain science to help young people realize their full potential from the noted business and foundation leader In the last decade a growing body of longitudinal neuroimaging research has demonstrated that adolescence is a period of continued brain growth and change challenging longstanding assumptions that the brain was largely finished maturing by puberty National Institutes of Health Breakthroughs in adolescent brain science have made it clear that young people need stable relationships meaningful opportunities and strong support to become thriving adults Yet far too many grow up without access to these essentials Whether it's a young person trying to finish school and secure their first job navigating the trauma of losing loved ones to violence or seeking connection after being placed in foster care their experiences reveal how deeply our public systems are falling short and how urgently we must act A major new book for parents local leaders and policymakers alike Thrive argues that how we understand and address the unequal experiences of adolescence holds the key to ensuring that all children have an equal chance of becoming successful adults Drawing on her deep experience working in business and alongside youth nonprofit and public system leaders as head of the Annie E Casey Foundation author Lisa M Lawson offers a powerful and accessible look at what the science of adolescent development tells us and what it demands of us With clarity and purpose she reveals how our policies and practices too often fail young people and how we can do better by creating the connections opportunities and support they need to reach their full potential Arguing that we all have a shared stake in helping young people navigate the road to adulthood Lawson lays out the ways that public systems nonprofits businesses and families can draw lessons from science and take steps to help all young people thrive
