Leveraging Gender, Youth and Social Networks for Inclusive and Transformative Livestock Production in the Tropics and Subtropics Stefan Burkart, Renee Marie Bullock, Juan Andrés Cardoso Arango, Marcela Ramos

, Natalia Triana Angel, 2024-10-14 Social research has provided critical insights into understanding gender and generational gaps and the ways that power relations create differentiated access to agricultural and livestock technologies and services

Many of these technologies and services such as improved feed options grass legume associations silvo pastoral systems improved animal genetics health and welfare grazing management and associated water and soil health and manure management have the potential to improve livelihoods sustainability food security and generational transfer dynamics Their adoption contributes to mitigating many of the impacts the livestock sector has on the environment through for example reducing greenhouse gas emissions and deforestation increasing biodiversity restoration and land sparing Likewise their adoption helps producers adapt to climate change

The Status of Youth in Agrifood Systems Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, The world s agrifood systems stand at a crossroads With 1.3 billion youth globally the future of food livelihoods and economic resilience depends on their participation in agrifood systems At the same time agrifood systems need youth to drive productivity innovation and sustainability in a crucial and rapidly evolving sector FAO s The Status of Youth in Agrifood Systems report is a call to action It presents the most comprehensive evidence based analysis of youth in agrifood systems to date highlighting both the opportunities and structural barriers that shape their engagement It explores how transforming agrifood systems can enhance decent job opportunities and food security for youth and how empowered youth can drive this transformation It concludes highlighting policy recommendations and areas of investments to foster more equitable and sustainable agrifood systems where rural youth are both beneficiaries and leaders of change
