future isn't written. It's ours to create. The Space of the World Nick Couldry, 2024-09-17 Over the past thirty years humanity has made a huge mistake. We handed over to big tech decisions that have allowed them to build what has become our space of the world: the highly artificial space of social media platforms where much of our social life now unfolds. This has proved reckless and has huge social consequences. The toxic effects on social life, young people's mental health and political solidarity are well known, but the key factor underlying all this has been missed: the fact that humanity allowed business to construct our space of the world at all and then exploit it for profit. In the process we ignored two millennia of political thought about the conditions under which a healthy or even a non-violent politics is possible. We endangered the one resource that is in desperately short supply in the face of catastrophic climate change: solidarity. Is human solidarity possible in a world of continuous digital connection and commercially managed platforms, and what if it isn't? In the first book of his trilogy Humanising the Future, Nick Couldry offers a radical new vision of how to design our digital spaces so that they build rather than erode both solidarity and community. This trenchant and vividly written book stresses that we cannot afford not to care for our space of the world. We need to rebuild it together.

Figuring Out Thirty Bridget Hustwaite, 2025-01-07 When Bridget Hustwaite blew out her thirtieth birthday candles, she had no idea of the profound changes that awaited her in this new decade. Instead of ticking off the traditional expectations: buy a house, get married, start a family, Bridget's list of early thirties life moments looked wildly different to what she anticipated. Her long-term relationship of five years had just ended, she said goodbye to her dream job, was diagnosed with ADHD and became a lockdown dog mum. And that was just the beginning. Figuring Out Thirty covers the big questions we ask ourselves as the defining decade looms: How do we know the decisions we're making for our futures are the right ones for us and not what society expects of us? Is marriage still relevant and how do we decide if we want to have children and when? Do our dream careers have expiration dates? And why do our friendships hit different now? In her characteristically warm and relatable style, Bridget brings together collected wisdom from her hit podcast of the same name to deliver wide-ranging perspectives on crossing the threshold from our twenties to our thirties and all that comes with it. Along the way, she shares her frank, hard-earned lessons about what really matters at this time in our lives and how we can navigate the ups and downs while staying true to ourselves. As you'll discover, there is magic to be found in things not going exactly to plan. Funny, feminist and authentic. Hannah Ferguson. Refreshingly real. Laura Henshaw.
