1775 Thomas Jeremiah was one of fewer than five hundred Free Negroes in South Carolina and with an estimated worth of 1 000 about 200 000 in today's dollars possibly the richest person of African descent in British North America. A slaveowner himself Jeremiah was falsely accused by whites who resented his success as a Charleston harbor pilot of sowing insurrection among slaves at the behest of the British Chief among the accusers was Henry Laurens Charleston's leading patriot a slaveowner and former slave trader who would later become the president of the Continental Congress. On the other side was Lord William Campbell royal governor of the colony who passionately believed that the accusation was unjust and tried to save Jeremiah's life but failed. Though a free man Jeremiah was tried in a slave court and sentenced to death. In August 1775 he was hanged and his body burned. J. William Harris tells Jeremiah's story in full for the first time illuminating the contradiction between a nation that would be born in a struggle for freedom and yet deny it often violently to others.
