Berg,Jeffrey S. Tobias,2018-11-13 Winner of the Council Chair s Choice Award at the 2019 British Medical Association Awards Cancer Prevention and Screening offers physicians and all clinical healthcare professionals a comprehensive useful source of the latest information on cancer screening and prevention with both a global and a multidisciplinary perspective Includes background information on epidemiology cancer prevention and cancer screening for quick reference Offers the latest information for clinical application of the most recent techniques in prevention and screening of all major and many lesser cancer types Emphasises the importance of multidisciplinary teamwork in cancer screening Highlights frequent dilemmas and difficulties encountered during cancer screening Provides clear cut clinical strategies for optimal patient education communication and compliance with cancer prevention techniques Colorectal Cancer: Prevention, Epidemiology, and Screening Sidney J. Winawer,David Schottenfeld,Paul Sherlock,1980 Implementing Colorectal Cancer Screening Institute of Medicine,National Cancer Policy Forum,2008-12-01 The IOM s National Cancer Policy Board estimated in 2003 that even modest efforts to implement known tactics for cancer prevention and early detection could result in up to a 29 percent drop in cancer deaths in about 20 years The IOM s National Cancer Policy Forum which succeeded the Board after it was disbanded in 2005 continued the Board s work to outline ways to increase screening in the U S On February 25 and 26 2008 the Forum convened a workshop to discuss screening for colorectal cancer Colorectal cancer screening remains low despite strong evidence that screening prevents deaths With the aim to make recommended colorectal cancer screening more widespread the workshop discussed steps to be taken at the clinic community and health system levels Workshop speakers representing a broad spectrum of leaders in the field identified major barriers to increased screening and described strategies to overcome these obstacles This workshop summary highlights the information presented as well as the subsequent discussion about actions needed to increase colorectal screening and ultimately to prevent more colorectal cancer deaths Epidemiologic Studies in Cancer Prevention and Screening Anthony B. Miller,2012-11-30 Epidemiologic Studies in Cancer Prevention and Screening is the first comprehensive overview of the evidence base for both cancer prevention and screening This book is directed to the many professionals in government academia public health and health care who need up to date information on the potential for reducing the impact of cancer including physicians nurses epidemiologists and research scientists The main aim of the book is to provide a realistic appraisal of the evidence for both cancer prevention and cancer screening In addition the book provides an accounting of the extent programs based on available knowledge have impacted populations It does this through 1 Presentation of a rigorous and realistic evaluation of the evidence for population based interventions in prevention of and screening for cancer with particular relevance to those believed to be applicable now or on the cusp of application 2 Evaluation of the relative contributions of prevention and screening 3 Discussion of how within the health systems with which the authors are familiar prevention and screening for cancer can be enhanced Overview of the evidence base for cancer prevention and screening as demonstrated in Epidemiologic Studies in Cancer Prevention and Screening is critically important given current debates within the scientific community Of the five components of cancer control prevention early detection including screening treatment rehabilitation and palliative care prevention is regarded as the most important Yet the knowledge available to prevent many cancers is incomplete and even if we know the main causal factors for a cancer we often lack the understanding to put this knowledge into effect Further with the long natural history of most cancers it could take many years to make an appreciable impact upon the incidence of the cancer Because of these facts many have come to believe that screening has the most potential for reduction of the burden of cancer Yet through trying to apply the knowledge gained on screening for cancer the scientific community has recognized that screening can have major disadvantages and achieve little at substantial cost This reduces the resources that are potentially available both for prevention and for treatment Guide to Clinical Preventive Services U.
