Colour Of Memory:

The Colour of Memory Geoff Dyer, 2014-05-20 The first novel in revised form from possibly the best living writer in Britain The Daily Telegraph In The Colour of Memory six friends plot a nomadic course through their mid twenties as they scratch out an existence in near destitute conditions in 1980s South London They while away their hours drinking cheap beer landing jobs and quickly squandering them smoking weed dodging muggings listening to Coltrane finding and losing a facsimile of love collecting unemployment and discussing politics in the way of the besotted young as if they were employed only by the lives they chose In his vivid evocation of council flats and pubs of a life lived in the teeth of romantic ideals Geoff Dyer provides a shockingly relevant snapshot of a different Lost Generation The Colours of Our Memories Michel Pastoureau, 2020-09-08 What remains of the colours of our childhood What are our memories of a blue rabbit a red dress a yellow bike and were they really those colours What colours do we associate with our student years our first loves our adult lives How does colour leave its mark on memory In an attempt to answer these and other questions Michel Pastoureau presents us with a journal about colours that covers half a century Drawing on personal recollections he retraces the recent history of colours through an exploration of fashion and clothing everyday objects and practices emblems and flags sport literature museums and art This text playful poetic nostalgic records the life of both the author and his contemporaries We live in a world increasingly bursting with colour in which colour remains a focus for memory a source of delight and most of all an invitation to dream COLOUR OF MEMORY.
