Colouring Textiles A History Of Natural Dyestuffs In Industrial Europe:

Colouring Textiles A. Nieto-Galan, 2013-04-17 Colouring Textiles is an attempt to provide a new cross cultural comparative approach to the art of dyeing and printing with natural dyestuffs in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Divided into thematic chapters it uncovers new data from the vast historical heritage of natural dyestuffs from a range of European cities to present new historiographic insights for the understanding of this technology. Through a sort of anatomic dissection the book explores the study and cultivation of dye plants in botanical gardens and plantations and the tacit values hidden in dyeing workshops, factories, laboratories or national and international exhibitions. It metaphorically submits the natural dyestuffs of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries to a series of systematic historical tests and traces back the circulation of those sources of colours through colonial spaces, dye works, cross cultural networks, schools of artistic design and science based industries for the making of synthetic colorants. Colouring Textiles contributes to a better understanding of the role of natural dyestuffs in the processes of industrialization in Western Europe. Audience: Historians of science and technology, historians of chemistry, philosophers, economic historians, professional chemists, arts and crafts historians and cultural anthropologists.

A Revolution in Colour Giorgio Riello, Maria Hayward, Ulinka Rublack, 2024-09-19 This major volume aims to re-colour the European world of dress c. 1300-1800. New dyes created one of the most important visual experiences of the period, yet their story has been side-lined by a focus on visual experiences shaped by the high arts. Meanwhile theatrical productions and period films still abound with broad assumptions about the growing dominance of black clothing for elites during the period, while ordinary people are imagined having worn coarse greys and bleached garments. This volume presents clear evidence that even the clothing of the middle classes could be much more expensive than paintings and that coloured clothing and accessories were ubiquitous across society. Contributors shed new light on the economic, environmental and cultural dimensions of colour in dress. The range of dyes expanded considerably in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, drawing on Asian and Mediterranean knowledge, new collections of recipes and the greater diversity of plants available through New World trade. Working creatively with organic plant, animal and mineral materials to make colours involved considerable knowledge, pleasure and skill. The creation of colour through dyes thus reveals a whole range of global agricultural and craft technologies that can inspire future material worlds and transform our understanding of Europe's cultural heritage.

A Cultural History of Color in the Age of Enlightenment Carole P. Biggam, Kirsten Wolf, 2022-08-31 A Cultural History of Color in the Age of Enlightenment covers the period 1650 to 1800. From the Baroque to the Neo-classical, color transformed art, architecture, ceramics, jewelry and glass. Newton, using a prism, demonstrated the seven separate hues which encouraged the development of color wheels and tables and the increased standardization of color names. Technological advances in color printing resulted in superb maps and anatomical and botanical images. Identity and wealth were signalled with color in uniforms, flags and fashion. And the growth of empires, trade and slavery encouraged new ideas about color Color shapes an individual's experience of the world and also how society gives particular spaces objects and moments meaning The 6 volume set of the Cultural History of Color examines how color has been created traded used and interpreted over the last 5000 years The themes covered in each volume are color philosophy and science color technology and trade power and identity religion and ritual body and clothing language and psychology literature and the performing arts art architecture and interiors and artefacts Carole P Biggam is Honorary Senior Research Fellow in English Language and Linguistics at the University of Glasgow UK Kirsten Wolf is Professor of Old Norse and Scandinavian Linguistics at the University of Wisconsin Madison USA Volume 4 in the Cultural History of Color set General Editors Carole P Biggam and Kirsten Wolf      Colouring Textiles Agusti Nieto-Galan, 2014-01-15      Bright Modernity Regina Lee Blaszczyk, Uwe Spiekermann, 2017-08-24 Color is a visible technology that invisibly connects so many puzzling aspects of modern Western consumer societies research and development making and selling predicting fashion trends and more Building on Regina Lee Blaszczyk's go to history of the color revolution in the United States this book explores further transatlantic and multidisciplinary dimensions of the topic Covering history from the mid nineteenth century into the immediate past it examines the relationship between color commerce and consumer societies in unfamiliar settings and in the company of new kinds of experts Readers will learn about the early dye industry the dynamic nomenclature for color and efforts to standardize understand and educate the public about color Readers will also encounter early food coloring new consumer goods technical and business innovations in print and on the silver screen the interrelationship between gender and color and color forecasting in the fashion industry      Chemical Heritage ,2005      Boston Studies in the Philosophy of Science ,2007      Fashion Theory ,1997      Technology and Culture ,2002      American Book Publishing Record ,2001      National Gallery Technical Bulletin Ashok Roy, 2007 The National Gallery Technical Bulletin draws on the combined expertise of curators conservators and scientists and brings together information about artists materials practices and techniques      The Philosopher's Index ,2006 Vols for 1969 include a section of abstracts      The Eighteenth-century Current Bibliography ,2001      The Correspondence of Charles Darwin Charles Darwin, Frederick Burkhardt, 1985 For the first time full authoritative texts of Darwin's are made available edited according to modern textual editorial principles and practice Letter writing was of crucial importance to Darwin's work not only because his poor health isolated him from direct personal communication with his scientific colleagues but also because the nature of his investigations required communication with naturalists in many fields and in all quarters of the globe Thus the letters are a mine of information about the work in progress of a creative genius who produced an intellectual revolution      Internationale Bibliographie der Rezensionen wissenschaftlicher Literatur ,2003      Textiles and Text AHRC Research Centre for Textile Conservation and Textile Studies.
