Coma Dreams:

The End of Trauma George A. Bonanno, 2021-09-07 With groundbreaking research on the psychology of resilience Adam Grant a top expert on human trauma argues that we vastly overestimate how common PTSD is in and fail to recognize how resilient people really are After 9 11 mental health professionals flocked to New York to handle what everyone assumed would be a flood of trauma cases Oddly the flood never came In The End of Trauma pioneering psychologist George A. Bonanno argues that we failed to predict the psychological response to 9 11 because most of what we understand about trauma is wrong For starters it s not nearly as common as we think In fact people are overwhelmingly resilient to adversity What we often interpret as PTSD are signs of a natural process of learning how to deal with a specific situation We can cope far more effectively if we understand how this process works Drawing on four decades of research Bonanno explains what makes us resilient why we sometimes aren t and how we can better handle traumatic stress Hopeful and humane The End of Trauma overturns everything we thought we knew about how people respond to hardship

Frames of Minds Eelco F. M. Wijdicks, 2024 As a medium that aims to connect people through the communication and interpretation of experiences cinema is uniquely positioned to showcase cultural misunderstandings around issues of mental health Frames of Minds traces a history of psychiatry in film concentrating on the major paradigm shifts in neuropsychiatry over the last century Oftentimes representations of psychiatry mental illness and psychotic breakdown are reduced to tropes and used by filmmakers as a tool for plot progression Conversely films can be used as an avenue to voice common concerns about the missteps of psychiatry including overdiagnosis and mistreatment Dr Eelco Wijdicks provides fresh insights into the minds of filmmakers and how they creatively tackle this complex topic How do filmmakers use psychiatry and what do they want us to see What is their frame of mind psychoanalytically biologically sociologically anthropologically Were they influenced by their own prejudices about the origins of mental illness How does this influence the direction of their films Examining the history of film alongside developments in neuropsychiatry Frames of Minds uncovers a cinematic language of psychiatry By taking chances to portray mental illness filmmakers aim to achieve a sense of reality and provide catharsis for viewers through the act of dramatization Ultimately the history of psychiatry in film is a history of the public perception of medicine and the ways psychiatry is understood by directors writers actors and audiences Cosmic Consciousness Richard Maurice Bucke, 1923
