Combating Terrorism United States. Congress. House. Committee on Government Reform. Subcommittee on National Security, Emerging Threats, and International Relations, 2003 Combating Terrorism William C. Banks, Renée de Nevers, Mitchel B. Wallerstein, 2008 Countering terrorism tops the list of America's devilish set of problems Americans deal with terrorism and the threat of terrorism through enhanced investigative tools in hopes of interdicting terrorism before it strikes as a law enforcement issue as a matter for international cooperation and diplomacy and as a species of war best fought by the military These approaches are not mutually exclusive nor are they exhaustive Nor have they or will they be successful all of the time But as a central focus of U S national security strategy the stakes couldn't be higher In ten comprehensive chapters Combating Terrorism discusses tools and tactics for dealing with this ever changing challenge with a focus on how they operate in the real world Additionally readers are encouraged to explore why terrorists might strike and what might be done to ameliorate root causes The authors also discuss the dynamics of homeland security planning and recovery with an examination of the crucial role of the media and our government's public affairs function in crisis situations Each chapter features a series of case studies designed to give students a quick study of actual terrorist actions and the counter strategies at work offering further insight into the complexities of combating terrorism Combating Terrorism: Analysis of Federal Counterterrorist Exercises Carol R. Schuster, 1999-12 U S policy and guidelines to combat terrorism call for robust tailored and rapidly deployable interagency teams to conduct well coordinated and highly integrated operations Fed agencies enhance their ability to respond to terrorist incidents by conducting exercises that train key personnel and test response plans GAO briefed Congress on its analysis of fed counterterrorist exercises that had been gathered in producing a Feb 1999 classified report This report summarizes the contents of those briefings The objective was to determine the numbers types scenarios and participants involved in Fed counterterrorism exercises conducted from 1995 to 1998
