Contemporary Chinese Society and Politics Andrew B. Kipnis, Luigi Tomba, Jonathan Unger, 2009 The first volume brings together the best work to have been published on Chinese society and politics in the Maoist period 1949-76 Volume II meanwhile collects the key research dealing with both the theoretical implications and the empirical complexities of the post Mao evolution at the highest level of the political leadership The distinctions between urban and rural are especially significant in the People's Republic not least because of China's system of residential registration which denies rural residents any right to live permanently in a city and the final two volumes are organized with these fundamental distinctions in mind Volume III gathers the best work on topics including urban spaces e.g. the creation and dismantlement of the socialist city the creation of virtual cities and the making of Olympics Beijing the newly prosperous constituencies including China's new rich and the development of a huge and increasingly self-identifying middle class China's working class internal migration and urban social change Volume IV includes work brought together under themes such as rural politics family farming changes in rural society in a period of economic reform and China's ethnic minorities The Subject in Crisis in Contemporary Chinese Literature Rong Cai, 2004-05-31 Post Mao China produced two parallel discourses on the human subject in the New Era 1976-1989 One was an autonomous Enlightenment humanist self aimed at replacing the revolutionary paragon that had dominated under Mao The other was a more problematic subject suffering from either a symbolic physical

deformity or some kind of spiritual paralysis that undermines its apparent normalcy How do we explain the stubborn presence in the literature of the 1980s and 1990s of this crippled agent who fails to realize the humanist autonomy envisioned by post Mao theorists What are the anxieties and tensions embedded in this incongruity and what do they reveal This illuminating and original critical study of the crippled subject in post Mao literature offers a detailed textual analysis of the work of five well known contemporary writers Han Shaogong Can Xue Yu Hua Mo Yan and Jia Pingwa The author investigates not only the literary characters within the texts but also their creators real subjects in history Chinese writers whose own agency was being tested and established in the search for a new subjectivity She argues that reenacting the Maoist legacy the literary search failed to provide a viable model for a postrevolutionary China In addition the deficiency and inadequacy of the subject cannot always be contained in the Communist past a history to be transcended in the design of modernity after Mao The representation of the problematic subject thus punctured post Mao optimism and foreshadowed the eventual abandonment of the move to rethink subjectivity in the 1990s By diving beneath the euphoria of the 1980s and the confusion and frustration of the 1990s these critical readings offer a unique perspective with which to gauge the complexity of China s quest for modernity and a fuller understanding of the self s multifaceted experience in the post Mao era

Gender and Sexuality in Modern Chinese History Susan L. Mann, 2011-09-19 Gender and sexuality have been neglected topics in the history of Chinese civilization despite the fact that there is a massive amount of historical evidence on the subject China s late imperial government was arguably more concerned about gender and sexuality among its subjects than any other pre modern state How did these and other late imperial legacies shape twentieth century notions of gender and sexuality in modern China Susan Mann answers this by focusing on state policy ideas about the physical body and notions of sexuality and difference in China s recent history from medicine to the theater to the gay bars from law to art and sports More broadly the book shows how changes in attitudes toward sex and gender in China during the twentieth century have cast a new light on the process of becoming modern while simultaneously challenging the universalizing assumptions of Western modernity

Modern Chinese Religion II: 1850 - 2015 (2 vols.), 2015-10-20 The last of four two volume sets on the key periods of paradigm shift in Chinese religious and cultural history this book examines the transformation of values in China since 1850 in the secular realms of economics science medicine aesthetics media and gender and in each of the major religions Confucianism Buddhism Daoism Christianity as well as in Marxist discourse The nation and science are the values invoked most frequently with the market and democracy a distant second As in previous periods of fundamental change in Chinese history rationalization and secularization have played central roles but interiorization nearly disappears as a driving force Also in continuity with the past the state insists on an exclusive right to define and adjudicate orthodoxy Contributors include Daniel H Bays S bastien Billioud Adam Yuet Chau Na Chen Philip Clart Walter B Davis Arif Dirlik Thomas David DuBois Lizhu Fan David Faure Melissa Wei Tsing Inouye Ji Zhe Xiaofei Kang Eric I Karchmer Andr Lalibert
