Şehvar Beşiroğlu (Danışman.), Türk Musiki Devlet Konservatuvarı, 2009 This dissertation is a research on the application of standardized contemporary instrumental techniques to certain Turkish music instruments kemeçe ud kanun ney in addition to the proposition of the notation of particular techniques that are unique to those instruments The main purpose of this study is to contribute to the formation of the common terminology that will enrich the communication between contemporary music composers and traditional Turkish music composers and performers This communication will strengthen composers relation with the tradition in order to create access to unique artistic formations in
