

I'll leave you with three pieces of advice I've inherited from minds finer than my own:

In Hamlet's speech to the players, Shakespeare gives some of the greatest acting advice of all time:

"Speak the speech, I pray you, as I pronounced it to you, trippingly on the tongue..."

... Nor do not saw the air too much with your hand, thus. But use all gently.

For in the very torrent, tempest, and, as I may say, the whirlwind of passion, you must acquire and beget a temperance that may give it smoothness...

Be not too tame neither. But let your own discretion be your tutor. Suit the action to the word, the word to the action, with this special observance, that you o'erstep not the modesty of nature.

For any thing so overdone is from the purpose of playing, whose end, both at the first and now, was and is, to hold, as 'twere, the mirror up to nature, to show virtue her own feature, scorn her own image, and the very age and body of the time his form and pressure".

Or, in the words of the great Marlon Brando, to whom all actors working today owe an immeasurable debt:

"Everything that you do – make it as real as you can. Make it alive. Make it tangible. Find the truth of that moment".

The great acting teacher Stella Adler, who trained Brando, once said:

"Life beats down and crushes the soul, and art reminds you that you have one".

Your job as an actor is to bare it.

Go get 'em.
