Contemporary Philosophical Alternatives and the Crisis of Truth Gerhard A. Rauche, 1971-07-31 Contemporary Philosophical Alternatives and the Crisis of Truth G.A. Rauche, 2012-12-06 The function of philosophy may be circumscribed as consisting in making a keen analysis of the peculiar nature of the crisis situation as it has existed among men throughout the centuries of human history and as it manifested itself in definite ways at the various stages of this history That is to say philosophy may be regarded as the discipline which again and again will have to determine the authenticity of man's existence in the light of the changing conditions of life i.e. man's changing needs and interests Fundamentally these needs may be regarded as being of a material an intellectual an aesthetical and a spiritual kind On the grounds of the crisis which inevitably exists among men on account of the controversial nature of their various truth perspectives as they are postulated on a personal level in the sciences in history in the fine arts and in theology man creates and re-creates the goods of civilization and the cultural values The task of philosophy consists then in making an ever new assessment of man's changing needs in interests and aspirations on the basis of the specific conflicts and problems with which man wrestles at a certain historical stage It is in this way that the important philosophical systems were constructed which we still admire to day Finding and Confirming Truth John Pletz, 2010-05-10 Is truth a word we use only to affirm a statement or is it also something more In Finding and Confirming Truth John S Pletz explains that truth is more than mere affirmation It also is the conclusion reached when we have effectively confirmed that an assertion accurately depicts the facts that it describes Following a delineation of the major types of inferences used in confirming the truth of statements and the justifications for each of them Pletz discusses the process used in identifying and verifying factual truth That process includes the critical step of assessing the degree of certainty we have in a confirmed assertion which the author contends must be ascertained before we should conclude that any statement is true Finally Pletz employs this confirmation framework and process in seeking the truth of the concept of truth itself Journal of the University of Durban-Westville ,1973
