Contemporary Southeast Asia Mark Beeson, 2004 BERGER Senior Lecturer in International Studies University of New South Wales Australia CHUA BENG HUAT Professor Department of Sociology National University of Singapore Singapore WILLIAM CASE Senior Lecturer School of International Business and Asian Studies Griffith University Australia LORRAINE ELLIOTT Fellow Department of International Relations The Australian National University Australia and until August 2005 Reader Department of Politics and International Studies University of Warwick UK ROBERT ELSON Professor of Southeast Asian History School of History Philosophy Religion and Classics University of Queensland Australia GREG FEALY Research Fellow Research School of Pacific and Asian Studies and Lecturer Faculty of Asian Studies The Australian National University Australia GREG FEL KER Assistant Professor Division of Social Science Hong Kong University of Science and Technology Hong Kong VEDI HADIZ Assistant Professor Department of Sociology National University of Singapore Singapore RICHARD STUBBS Professor of Political Science McMaster University Canada Southeast Asian Development Andrew McGregor, 2008-03-03 Southeast Asia has long fascinated development practitioners and researchers for being one of the few regions of the world that has resisted global trends to become a successful developing region Divided into accessible thematic chapters this book adopts a unique perspective of equitable development to outline the strengths and weaknesses of the transformations taking place in the Southeast Asian region Focusing on four key themes equality and inequality political freedom and opportunity empowerment and participation and environmental sustainability these concepts are used to explore Southeast Asian development and trace the impacts that the growing popularity of market led and grassroots approaches are having upon economic political and social processes Whilst the diversity of the region is emphasized so are some of the homogenizing trends such as the concentration of wealth and services in urban areas and the subsequent migration of rural people into urban factories and squatter settlements The ongoing commercialization and industrialization of rural agriculture as well as the expansion of non farm income earning opportunities in rural spaces and the alarming rates of environmental degradation which threaten health and livelihoods are also exposed In highlighting how Southeast Asian development is unevenly distributing wealth opportunities and risks throughout the region this book emphasizes the need for creative new approaches to ensure that benefits of development are equitably enjoyed by all Including illustrations case studies and further reading this book provides an accessible up to date introductory text for students and researchers interested in Southeast Asian development development studies Asian studies and geography The New Politics of Regionalism Ulf Engel, Heidrun Zinecker, Frank Mattheis, Antje Dietze, Thomas Plötze, 2016-10-04 This edited volume approaches regionalism as one potential pattern in a changing global order Since the end of the Cold War different forms of territorialization have emerged and we are confronted with an increasing number and variety of actors that are establishing regional projects This volume offers an innovative contribution to the study of this new complexity by exploring constellations

of regional actors spatial scales and imaginations beyond state centred perspectives as well as on multiple often overlapping levels The chapters analyse the emergence trajectories and outcomes of regionalisms from the perspective of the Global South specifically concentrating on regional projects in Latin America and Africa but also in the Asia Pacific They attempt to identify the specific conditions and junctures of different forms of region making in their external global and internal local national dimensions The volume also places special emphasis on interactions spatial entanglements and comparisons between regionalisms in different parts of the world By expanding beyond the perspective of North South transfers this book seeks to better understand the dynamics and diversity of interregional interactions This volume will appeal to scholars of global studies international political economy international relations human geography and development studies as well as area studies specialists who focus on Latin America and Africa

International Relations Scholarship Around the World Arlene B. Tickner, Ole Wæver, 2009-06-24 This book provides the most comprehensive global analysis of international relations ever published assessing the state of the discipline in different corners of the world through insights derived from sociology of science and postcolonial theory

Transforming Learning in Schools and Communities Bob Lingard, Jon Nixon, Stewart Ranson, 2011-11-03 Many educators have been looking for a fundamentally different approach to engage young people and encourage progress in learning Supported by recent public policy developments a transformation is beginning to take place in the practice of many schools The focus of learning is shifting away from the child as an individual in a classroom detached from the surrounding neighbourhood to a learning community that embraces carers and families as well as young people and teachers This monograph analyses the organising principles of this cultural transformation and considers how it will shape learning in schools and communities throughout the world The book brings together key thinkers from the fields of new learning new communities of educational practice and new forms of educational governance Arguing for the necessary interconnectedness of pedagogy institutions and governance this ground breaking book will undoubtedly shape the policy agenda in this area for years to come

Regionalism in Asia See Seng Tan, 2009 Especially since the Cold War research relating to international relations in Asia has grown exponentially and to make sense of what is now a vast and unwieldy corpus of literature this collection from the Critical Issues in Modern Politics series brings together the best and most influential work in the field

The International Politics of EU-China Relations

David Kerr, Dr. Liu Fei, 2007-12-13 The EU China relationship is fast developing in its own context and in the wider context of international politics In these essays major scholars from Europe and China debate the nature problems and potential of the emerging strategic relationship between these two international actors

The Political Economy of South-East Asia Garry Rodan, Kevin Hewison, Richard Robison, 2006 As market economic systems extend over southeast Asia the debate over what role the state should play and what political regime is necessary for economic growth is hotly contested This revised and updated text examines the political economy of specific countries in the region and follows with a thematic and comparative analysis of key issues Islamic Thought in Southeast Asia Kamaruzzaman Bustamam-Ahmad, Patrick Jory, 2013 The Promise of ICTs in Asia Sun Sun Lim, Raymund C. Transnational economic integration has been described by globalization boosters as a rising tide that will lift all boats an opportunity for all participants to achieve greater prosperity through a combination of political cooperation and capitalist economic competition The Asian Development Bank ADB has championed such rhetoric in promoting the integration of China Southeast Asia s formerly socialist states and Thailand into a regional project called the Greater Mekong Subregion GMS But while the GMS project is in fact hastening regional economic integration Jim Glassman shows that the approach belies the ADB s idealized description of win win outcomes The process of actually existing globalization in the GMS does provide varied opportunities for different actors but it is less a rising tide that lifts all boats than an uneven flood of transnational capitalist development whose outcomes are determined by intense class struggles market competition and regulatory battles Glassman makes the case for adopting a class based approach to analysis of GMS development regionalization and actually existing globalization First he analyzes the interests and actions of various Thai participants in GMS development then the roles of different Chinese actors in GMS integration He next provides two cases illustrating the serious limits of any notion that GMS integration is a relatively egalitarian process Laos participation in GMS development and the role of migrant Burmese workers in the production of the GMS He finds that Burmese migrant workers dam displaced Chinese and Laotian villagers and economically stressed Thai farmers and small businesses are relative losers compared to the powerful business interests that shape GMS integration from locations like Bangkok and Kunming as well as key sites outside the GMS like Beijing Singapore and Tokyo The final chapter blends geographical historical analysis with an assessment of uneven development and actually existing globalization in the GMS Cogent and persuasive Bounding the Mekong will attract attention from the growing number of scholars analyzing globalization neoliberalism regionalization and multiple scales of governance It is suitable for graduate courses in geography political science and sociology as well as courses with a regional focus Global Warming and Climate Change Antonio Marquina Barrio, 2010-02-24 This book looks at the principal consequences of climate change and its possible impact on conflict and security It clarifies the impact of climate change on natural resources on the frequency and expansion of natural disasters and as a consequence the repercussions that can be foreseen on environmentally induced migration The Journal of Parliamentary Information ,2005 South Asian Survey ,2006 Freedom of Political Speech and Social Responsibility in Malaysia Mohd.
