Contemporary European Literature:

Contemporary Movements in European Literature, 1934 Contemporary European Writers William A. Drake, 1967

An Introduction to Modern European Literature Martin Travers, 1998 Wide ranging and imaginative An Introduction to Modern European Literature is an incisive guide to the rich heritage of European literature The book gives a lively account of major figures and texts as well as previously marginalised writers assessing their relevance to the broad European tradition and the social political and intellectual issues which shaped it Structured around the major literary movements of the period Romanticism Realism and Naturalism Modernism the Literature of Political Engagement and Postmodernism the book will be invaluable to all students of modern literature and European cultural history Each chapter concludes with a detailed chronology of the major literary texts of each movement covering fiction drama and poetry A detailed annotated bibliography also guides the student through the seminal works of critical scholarship in the field Contemporary

Movements in European Literature William Rose, Jacob Isaacs, 1928 The Lyrical Novel in Contemporary European Literature, 1954 Lateness and Modern European Literature Ben Hutchinson, 2016 Modern European literature has traditionally been seen as a series of attempts to assert successive styles of writing as new In this groundbreaking study Ben Hutchinson argues that literary modernity can in fact be understood not as that which is new but as that which is late Exploring the ways in which European literature repeatedly defines itself through a sense of senescence or epigonality Hutchinson shows that the shifting manifestations of lateness since romanticism express modernity's continuing quest for legitimacy With reference to a wide range of authors from Mary Shelley Chateaubriand and Immermann via Baudelaire Henry James and Nietzsche to Valéry Djuna Barnes and Adorno he combines close readings of canonical texts with historical and theoretical comparisons of numerous national contexts Out of this broad comparative sweep emerges a taxonomy of lateness of the diverse ways in which modern writers can be understood in the words of Nietzsche as creatures facing backwards Ambitious and original Lateness and Modern European Literature offers a significant new model for understanding literary modernity Contemporary European Writers William A. William A. Drake, 1929 The Best of Modern European Literature (Heart of Europe) an Anthology of Creative Writing in Europe, 1920-1940 Klaus Mann, Hermann Kesten, 1945 The Novel and Europe Andrew Hammond, 2016-10-05 This book examines the ways in which fiction has addressed the continent since the Second World War Drawing on novelists from Europe and elsewhere the volume analyzes the literary response to seven dominant concerns ideas of Europe conflict borders empire unification migration and marginalization offering a ground breaking study of how modern and contemporary writers have participated in the European debate The sixteen essays view the chosen writers not as representatives of national literatures but as participants in transcontinental discussion that has occurred across borders cultures and languages In doing so the contributors raise questions about the forms of power operating across and radiating from Europe challenging both the institutionalized divisions of the Cold War and the triumphalist narrative of continental unity currently being written in Brussels Century Readings in Ancient Classical and Modern European Literature John William Cunliffe, Grant Showerman, 1925 Columbia Dictionary of Modern European Literature Horatio Smith, 1963 Bibliography for

Courses in Contemporary European Literature Columbia University. Extension teaching, 1922 Reading the Modern European Novel since 1900 Daniel R. Schwarz, 2021-07-06 An exploration of the modern European novel from a renowned English literature scholar Reading the Modern European Novel since 1900 is an engaging in depth examination of the evolution of the modern European novel Written in Daniel R Schwarz s precise and highly readable style this critical study offers compelling discussions on a wide range of major works since 1900 and examines recurring themes within the context of significant historical events including both World Wars and the Holocaust The author cites important developments in the evolution of the modern novel and explores how these paradigmatic works of fiction reflect intellectual and cultural history including developments in painting and cinema Schwarz focuses on narrative complexity thematic subtlety and formal originality as well as how novels render historical events and cultural developments Discussing major works by Proust Camus Mann Kafka Grass di Lampedusa Bassani Kertesz Pamuk Kundera Saramago Muller and Ferrante Schwarz explores how these often experimental masterworks pay homage to the their major predecessors discussed in Schwarz s ground breaking Reading the European Novel to 1900 even while proposing radical departures from realism in their approach to time and space their testing the limits of language and their innovative ways of rendering the human psyche Written for teachers and students by a highly acclaimed scholar and including valuable study questions Reading the Modern European Novel since 1900 offers a guide for a deeper understanding of how these original modern masters respond to both the past and present

A History of European Literature in the Middle Ages and Modern Times John Reynell Morell, 1874 A Reader's Guide to Fifty Modern European Poets John Pilling, 1982 From the Blurb The last century and a quarter has been one of the most fertile periods for poetry in Europe and there has been a corresponding increase in interest among English speaking readers

Although the debate about whether poetry is translatable continues John Pilling believes that this growing readership is evidence of a substratum present in every poetic utterance which enables it to survive and withstand translation Indeed it would be a remarkable linguist who could tackle all the writers included here in their original language and it would be an enormous loss to refuse to do otherwise Apart from the five main European tongues French German Italian Spanish Russian the study includes poets writing in Portuguese Serbo Croat Polish and Greek The book opens with a consideration of the great French poets Baudelaire Mallarme Verlaine Rimbaud who must be the starting point of any survey of modern European poetry The author goes on to consider the brilliant generation of Russians writing before and during the Revolution Akhmatova Mandelstam Tsvetaeva Mayakovsky He does not however neglect the more diverse strands in the rest of Europe including for the purposes of this study the important work being done in Spanish America by Paz Neruda and Borges For each poet the author gives a brief outline of his or her life and major publications then a more detailed consideration of their poetic oeuvre placing it in its context There is also a very detailed and extensive bibliography The book is aimed at the non specific reader who wants a straightforward guide to a diverse and very rich area of contemporary writing Above all it is intended to encourage the reader to return to or discover for the first time the poetry itself
