Contemporary Irish Church Architecture Richard Hurley, Wilfrid Cantwell, 1985-01-01 Modern Religious Architecture in Germany, Ireland and Beyond Lisa Godson, Kathleen James-Chakraborty, 2019-03-07

Modernity and religion are not mutually exclusive Setting German and Irish church synagogue and mosque architecture side by side over the last century highlights the place for the celebration of the new within faiths whose appeal lies in part in the stability of belief they offer across time Inspired by radically modern German churches of the 1920s and 1930s this volume offers new insights into designers of all three types of sacred buildings working at home and abroad It offers new scholarship on the unknown phenomenon of mid century ecclesiastical architecture in sub Saharan Africa by Irish designers a critical appraisal of the overlooked Frank Lloyd Wright trained Andrew Devane and an analysis of accommodating difficult pasts and challenging futures with contemporary synagogue and mosque architecture in Germany With a focus on influence and processes alongside conservationists and historians it features critical insights by the designers of some of the most celebrated contemporary sacred buildings including Niall McLaughlin who writes on his multiple award winning Bishop Edward King Chapel and Amandus Sattler architect of the innovative Herz Jesu Kirche Munich

Contemporary Church Architecture Edwin Heathcote, Laura Moffatt, 2007-06-05 The last decade has seen the emergence of a whole new generation of church designs Covering buildings across the world Contemporary Church Architecture aims to appeal not only to architects and clergy involved directly in ecclesiastical architecture but also other practitioners and those with a broader interest in cutting edge design This book covers the development of contemporary church design by looking at how the rational and the sacred can be reconciled and can inform one another It also outlines the main trends and approaches the conflict between self expression and expression of the sacred between sculptural signification and functionalism Beautifully illustrated with around 350 photographs

Ireland and the New Architecture, 1900-1940 Sean Rothery, 1991 The first of its kind a history of Ireland s architecture in the early twentieth century with over 200 illustrations and photos

Irish Catholicism Since 1950 Louise Fuller, 2004 Louise Fuller sets the Church s role in its historical perspective before considering the triumphant institution of the 1950s It was a Church of piety and ritual mass

attendance church building processions pilgrimages the erection of crosses statues and grottos the widespread dissemination of devotional literature and the cult of indulgences were its distinguishing characteristics The rising prosperity of the 60s plus the effects of the Vatican Council began the liberalisation of Irish society The bishops reacted defensively Their conservatism stimulated the emergence of a Catholic intelligentsia propagating more liberal attitudes and championing the new theology The 70s and 80s saw a Church more open to liberation theology to ecumenism and to issues of justice and peace generally albeit change was gradual and piecemeal The real revolution did not come until the 1990s when a succession of clerical sexual scandals fatally subverted the unique moral authority of the Church which had been its greatest strength

Between Concept and Identity Esteban Fernández-Cobián, 2014-10-02 The identity of places of worship is one of the most difficult problems faced by religious architecture at the start of this new millennium Contemporary globalising experiences demand peremptorily a reflection both conceptual and situational on the origin of objects people and institutions Nevertheless the chance of these migration flows annihilating already existing religious identities is perceived as a problem This problem is directly linked to the survival of architecture as a system carrying a material representation of the divine and constituting a self reference system for the community of believers Therefore it is important to define the extent to which the new religious architecture has given room to an abstract type of formal experimentation which is disconnected from social reality Does this architecture maintain its bridging sacramental value or on the contrary has it given way to the conceptualist trends still alive in the artistic world Is metaphor a valid concept for the Christian religion Is there an essential aspect linking this architecture to the centuries old tradition of the Catholic Church Different architectural pedagogical exhibition and formal initiatives have arisen in recent years and it is necessary to get to know them with the purpose of understanding where contemporary religious architecture is heading in its eternal search for a permanent identity
