Contemporary Marriage Structure Dynamics And Therapy:

Contemporary Marriage Henry Grunebaum, Jacob Christ, 1976-01-01 The Family, 1980 Intimacy Martin Fisher, 2012-12-06 Intimacy is a complex and heterogeneous concept that has generated a variety of definitions theories and philosophies over the years Although there is much disagreement about the essential meaning of the term there seems to be a consensus that intimacy whatever it may be is of central importance in human relationships and specifically in the theory and practice of psychotherapy One approach to intimacy focuses on an intrapsychic conception Intimacy occurs when an individual achieves full self knowledge and is fully in touch with his or her feelings and wishes From this viewpoint an intimate act occurs when a person is willing to share these feelings and wishes with another so that self disclosure becomes an important index of intimacy This definition also implies that intimacy need not be reciprocal so that a therapeutic relationship can achieve a good deal of intimacy without the therapist engaging in self disclosure An alternate approach to intimacy stresses the interpersonal nature of the concept Intimacy is seen as the product of an interaction and can only occur between people Each one is able to touch something meaningful in the other whether at a conscious behavioral level or an unconscious and inferential level Therapists seeking intimacy in these terms would probably be a good deal more active and consider it more important to reveal something of the substance of their own persons if not the facts of their lives Family Therapy Janice M. Rasheed, Mikal N. Rasheed, James A. Marley, 2010-07-29 This text offers a straightforward comprehensive overview of both traditional and evolving theoretical models of family therapy and intervention techniques as well as a discussion of clinical issues unique to family therapy practice Aiming to prepare students to develop beginning proficiency in family therapy the authors outline major family therapy models in detail including a step by step description of concepts theories skills and techniques as well as a history of each model and its conceptual and theoretical underpinnings The text also provides extensive case illustrations of family interviews that identify the specific stages clinical issues concepts theories and techniques associated with each model This core text is designed for graduate level courses such as Family Therapy Marriage and Family Therapy Marriage and Family Counseling Family Systems Theory and Family Counseling in departments of social work psychology nursing education or human services African Psychology Augustine Nwoye, 2022 One of the most unprecedented developments in the history of the scientific study of psychology in postcolonial Africa is the recent welcome inclusion of the study of African psychology within the psychology degree curriculum of some foreword thinking African universities In each of those universities such as the University of KwaZulu Natal in South Africa and Kenyatta University in Nairobi Kenya East Africa there now exists a gradual entrenchment of the African derived psychology in the curricular provisions of their psychology degree programmes With particular reference to the University of KwaZulu Natal in South Africa for instance a number of African psychology based modules have recently been developed approved and incorporated into the list of modules for psychology degree students at the undergraduate Honours and the Master s degree levels see University of KwaZulu Natal College of Humanities Handbook 2018 Treating People in Families William C.
