Contemporary Public Art In China A Photographic Tour:

Contemporary Public Art in China John T. Young, 1999 Young introduces us to examples of portrait art featuring political figures such as the famous collaborative marble carving of Mao Zedong in the Memorial Hall at Tiananmen Square in Beijing and others that depict anonymous subjects such as Situ Zhaoguang's playful sculpture located on a Beijing traffic island amid busy streets of a girl engrossed in reading a book plugging her ears to the noise China's rich ethnic culture is evident in works such as Yuan Yunsheng's mural at the Beijing airport portraying the Dai people's Water Splashing Festival whose nude bathers were censored until recently and covered over by plywood Folklore serves as the inspiration for works such as the collaborative granite sculpture Five Rams in Guangzhou while historical figures and events from imperial China are the subjects of many works such as Silk Road a massive sculpture by Ma Gaihu and others marking the Chinese end of the ancient trade route

Soviet Socialist Realism and Art in the Asia-Pacific Alison Carroll, 2024-10-08 This study evaluates how the ideology of Socialist Realism developed by the Soviets in policies and the practices of art has been influential in the Asia Pacific region from 1917 until today Focusing primarily on Russia then China Vietnam Korea Singapore Indonesia the Philippines and Australia this book demonstrates how each society adopted and adapted the Soviet example to make some of the most important imagery of recent history Included is an examination of how the practice of Western art history the nature of art history in Asia and the forces of the Cold War have led to this influence being inadequately acknowledged across Asia and more widely The book will be relevant to those interested in art history Asian studies political history and cultural history

Classics in Post-Colonial Worlds Lorna Hardwick, Carol Gillespie, 2010-07-29 Classical material was traditionally used to express colonial authority but it was also appropriated by imperial subjects to become first a means of challenging colonialism and then a rich field for creating cultural identities that blend the old and the new Nobel prize winners such as Derek Walcott and Seamus Heaney have rewritten classical material in their own cultural idioms while public sculpture in southern Africa draws on Greek and Roman motifs to represent histories of African resistance and liberation These developments are explored in this collection of essays by international scholars who debate the relationship between the culture of Greece and Rome and the changes that have followed the end of colonial empires

Exhibiting the Past Kirk A. Denton, 2013-12-31 During the Mao era China's museums served an explicit and uniform propaganda function underlining official Party history eulogizing revolutionary heroes and contributing to nation building and socialist construction With the implementation of the post Mao modernization program in the late 1970s and 1980s and the advent of globalization and market reforms in the 1990s China underwent a radical social and economic transformation that has led to a vastly more heterogeneous culture and polity Yet China is dominated by a single Leninist party that continues to rely heavily on its revolutionary heritage to generate political legitimacy With its messages of collectivism self sacrifice and class struggle that heritage is increasingly at odds with Chinese society and with the state's own neoliberal ideology of rapid paced development glorification of the market and entrepreneurship In this ambiguous political environment museums and their curators must negotiate between revolutionary ideology and new kinds of historical narratives that reflect and highlight a neoliberal present In Exhibiting the Past Kirk Denton analyzes types of museums and exhibitionary spaces from revolutionary history museums military museums and memorials to martyrs to museums dedicated to literature ethnic minorities and local history He discusses red tourism a state sponsored program developed in 2003 as a new form of patriotic education designed to make revolutionary history come alive and urban planning exhibition halls which project utopian visions of China's future that are rooted in new conceptions of the past Denton's method is narratological in the sense that he analyzes the stories museums tell about the past and the political and ideological implications of those stories Focusing on official exhibitionary culture rather than alternative or counter memory Denton reinserts the state back into the discussion of postsocialist culture because of its centrality to that culture and to show that state discourse in China is neither monolithic nor unchanging The book considers the variety of ways state museums are responding to the dramatic social technological and cultural changes China has experienced over the past three decades The Best Books for Academic Libraries: Music & fine arts ,2002 Books recommended for undergraduate and college libraries listed by Library of Congress Classification Numbers Chinese Style Sunamita Lim,2006 Take the popular decorating concept of Feng Shui to a whole new level with authentic information on how to create a Chinese aesthetic Learn how to alleviate clutter and increase the flow of chi the universal life force discover ways of integrating Chinese furniture and decorative arts to decorating styles and stroll through a rich collection of images from homes museums and galleries Sculpture ,1999-07 MultiCultural Review ,1999 Half a Century of Chinese Woodblock Prints Iris Wachs,Tsong-zung Chang,Helen Foresman Spencer Museum of Art,1999 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1998 The Cultural Politics of Graffiti in Beijing Max D. Public Art (Now) Claire Doherty, 2015-03-09 Public Art Now Out of Time Out of Place is the first survey of progressive public art from around the world It presents some of the most significant artworks in the public realm from the last decade challenging preconceptions about where when and how public art takes place The face of public art is changing For decades art in the public realm has been characterized by the landmark sculpture or spectacular outdoor event that helps to define or brand a place But in recent years a new wave of international artists and producers has rejected the monumental scale and mass appeal of such artworks Instead these individuals and groups favour unconventional forms that unsettle rather than authenticate a place s identity disrupt rather than embellish a particular location and contest rather than validate the design and function of public space Performed interactions collaborative social movements and small scale subversive acts are just some of the unorthodox approaches taken by these artists Their works challenge preconceived ideas about the role of art in place making as they seek to remake places through radical forms and practices Public Art Now Out of Time Out of Place presents the artists who have been redefining the practice of public art over the past decade They directly address the most pressing issues of our time including the encroachment of corporate concerns on public space the implications of global migration and the isolation of the individual and the potential of collective action to share the future of our towns and cities Some forty key works from around the world are organized into five sections Displacement Intervention Disorientation Occupation and Perpetuation with detailed descriptions and dozens of installation and process shots Interviews and quotes from practitioners commissioners and commentators reveal the impetus and context for the projects while the editor s introduction sets out the conceptual practical and ethical issues raised by the works Bringing together the most significant artworks in the public realm of the last ten years from ephemeral interventions to long term ongoing projects this dynamic survey is an essential reference for anyone interested in the ideas issues and impulses behind progressive public art and an accessible introduction to one of the most vibrant areas of contemporary art
