Contested Metropolis Seven Cities At The Beginning Of The 21st Century:

The Berlin Reader Matthias Bernt, Britta Grell, Andrej Holm, 2014-04-09 By drawing together widely dispersed yet central writings the Berlin Reader is an essential resource for everyone interested in urban development in one of the most interesting and important metropolises in Europe It provides scholars as well as students journalists and visitors with an overview of the most central discussions on the tremendous changes Berlin experienced since the fall of the wall It covers a wide range of issues including inner city renewal housing and the local economy gentrification and other urban conflicts The book breaks ground in two dimensions first by offering also non German speakers an insight into the very controversial debates after reunification and second by highlighting the ambivalent consequences of Berlin's urban transformation in the past decades

Sex and the Revitalized City Leslie Kern, 2011-01-01 Young single women emerged in the late 1990s as powerful consumers in the wave of real estate development that was reshaping the landscape of cities Reports claimed that condominium ownership offered women new found freedom financial independence and personal security But has home ownership truly empowered women or were the reports merely celebratory rhetoric that disguised more disquieting trends To get at the reality behind the rhetoric Sex and the Revitalized City explores the phenomenon from the perspective of planners developers and women condo owners to reveal that women's relationship with the city is being remade in the image of fast capital and consumer citizenship As filtered through condominium ownership neoliberal ideologies are not freeing women from constraints they are reinforcing patriarchal norms This fresh look at urban revitalization exposes the notion of women's emancipation through condominium ownership as a marketing ploy rather than a major shift in gender relations

Transience and Permanence in Urban Development John Henneberry, 2017-03-21 Temporary urban uses innovative ways to transform cities or new means to old ends The scale and variety of temporary or meanwhile or interim urban uses and spaces has grown rapidly in response to the dramatic increase in vacant and derelict land and buildings particularly in post industrial cities To some this indicates that a paradigm shift in city making is underway To others alternative urbanism is little more than a distraction that temporarily cloaks some of the negative outcomes of conventional urban development However rigorous theoretically informed criticism of temporary uses has been limited The book draws on international experience to address this shortcoming from the perspectives of the law sociology human geography urban studies planning and real estate It considers how time and the way that it is experienced informs alternative perspectives on transience It emphasises the importance for analysis of the structural position of a temporary use in an urban system in spatial temporal and socio cultural terms It illustrates how this position is contingent upon circumstances What may be deemed a helpful and acceptable use to established institutions in one context may be seen as a problematic unacceptable use in another What may be a challenging and fulfilling alternative use to its proponents may lose its allure if it becomes successful in conventional terms Conceptualisations of temporary uses are therefore mutable and the use of fixed or insufficiently differentiated frames of reference within which to study them should be avoided It then identifies the major challenges of transforming a temporary use into a long term use These include the demands of regulatory compliance financial requirements levels of expertise and so on Finally the potential impacts of policy on temporary uses both inadvertent and intended are considered The first substantive critical review of temporary urban uses Transience and Permanence in Urban Development is essential reading for academics policy makers practitioners and students of cities worldwide

The State of the World's Cities 2004/2005, 2004 As towns and cities expand at unprecedented rates sustainable urban development is one of the most pressing challenges facing the international community in the 21st century This publication examines the realities faced by urban populations around the world focusing on the impact of globalisation and the way cities are governed and planned on the make up and density of their population and on their cultures and economies Issues considered include the impact of globalisation on urban culture urban renewal and cultural strategies the concept of metropolitanization socio economic and cultural impacts of international migration urban poverty and homelessness social inequality and exclusion urban governance safety and crime trends contemporary planning strategies and the role of civil society progress towards attainment of the Millennium Development Goals targets for sanitation and housing The report highlights the need for a new culture of planning to establish multicultural and inclusive cities involving civil society as well as public authorities

The Contested Metropolis Raffaele Paloscia, 2004 Inspiring provocative and encouraging alternatives to the crises which are overtaking our cities Berlin Brussels Florence London Paris Toronto Zurich fascinating western metropolises which are all sophisticated icons of international commerce finance tourism though in very different ways Striking appearances and successful structures are however only one side of the reality On the shadow side there are the insidious changes which have come about primarily for reasons of quick profit and consumerism social and ethnic ghettos are on the increase Yet in all these cities there are forces which are facing up to these supposedly irreversible developments and which must be taken seriously INURA an International Network for Urban Research and Action published Possible Urban Worlds in 1998 to draw attention to contemporary urban renewal Now they are publishing Contested Metropolis which looks at these seven cities presenting the most important critics and alternative urban projects

Staging the New Berlin Claire Colomb, 2013-06-17 This book explores the politics of place marketing and the process of urban reinvention in Berlin between 1989 and 2011 In the context of the dramatic socio economic restructuring processes changes in urban governance and physical transformation of the city following the Fall of the Wall the new Berlin was not only being built physically but staged for visitors and Berliners and marketed to the world through events and image campaigns which featured the iconic architecture of large scale urban redevelopment sites Public private partnerships were set up specifically to market the new Berlin to potential investors tourists Germans and the Berliners themselves The book analyzes the images of the city and the narrative of urban change which were produced over two decades In the 1990s three key sites were turned into icons of the new Berlin the new

Postdamer Platz the new government quarter and the redeveloped historical core of the Friedrichstadt Eventually the entire inner city was staged through a series of events which turned construction sites into tourist attractions New sites and spaces gradually became part of the 2000s place marketing imagery and narrative as urban leaders sought to promote the creative city By combining urban political economy and cultural approaches from the disciplines of urban politics geography sociology and planning the book contributes to a better understanding of the interplay between the symbolic politics of representation through place marketing and the politics of urban development and place making in contemporary urban governance

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2004      The State of the World's Cities ,2004      The Urban Village Alberto Magnaghi,2005-10 This book argues for the construction of democratic community level institutions profoundly more democratic than representative government environmentally sustainable but not disconnected from long distance global networks and having sufficient local economic strength to fight both the colonization and marginalization that globalization so often inflicts on local communities Another potential improvement would be an economics aimed at increasing people s well being not measured in wealth and income but incorporating other criteria of social progress such as quality of life solidarity and the development of non commercial caring relations      Archis ,2004      American Book Publishing Record ,2007      Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004      Der Sound der Stadt Albert Scharenberg,Ingo Bader,2005      Vernacular Architecture Newsletter ,2004      Local resistance to global pressure Dino Borri,2004      Yearbook of International Organizations 2013-2014 (Volumes 1a-1b) Union Of International Associations,Union of International Associations,2013-06-21 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events      Cultural Resources for Tourism Myriam Jansen-Verbeke,2008 The cultural heritage of regions and communities is presently being rediscovered and valorised as a driving force in building cultural identity and as a ubiquitous resource for dynamising cultural activities This process can lead to the development of cultural capital with clear territorial links and as such a favourable incubation condition for creating sustainable and competitive forms of cultural tourism Research on cultural resources for tourism implies both a multidisciplinary approach and methodological innovations to deal with such a complex phenomenon The challenge to identify and map cultural heritage elements tangible and intangible in a pan European context has recently been dealt with in the ESPON project 1 3 3 2004 2006 Lack of adequate definitions poor databases and a showcase of national and sector differences in approaching culture as resource for development was the final balance of that explorative project These findings have prompted further case study research into the study of cultural heritage which is encapsulated in this book This publication differs from others on cultural tourism through its emphasis on spatial dynamics by analysing location and behaviour patterns in different tourism destinations by identifying the parameters of change induced by tourism and not in the least trial and error examples in policy making The book includes a rich variety of case studies mainly from all over Europe but also including cases set in

Israel Cairo and India representing the views and findings of 21 international researchers and scholars in cultural tourism scanning unique situations in order to detect the common dynamics and impacts of tourismification The final objective is to propose consistent directions for policy based on empirical insights The book contributes significantly to the understanding of cultural diversity and territorial identity on the one hand and to the dynamics of tourism on the other all of which are key issues in local and regional planning and management As such they should be a source of inspiration for policy makers and an eye opener for students researchers and consultants in the field of cultural heritage and tourism and hopefully an interesting virtual trip from Savonlinna to Cairo from Santiago de Compostela to Sibiu crossing and discovering a kaleidoscope of colourful and unique cultural landscapes and tourismscapes
