Contextual Factors In Education:

Individual and Contextual Factors in the English Language Classroom Rahma Al-Mahrooqi, Christopher J. Denman, 2022-03-22 This edited volume examines a number of topics related to the roles of individual and contextual factors in English as second or foreign language ESL EFL settings by presenting chapters across the three sections of theoretical and pedagogical approaches teacher and learner research and research into the roles of technology The book has a focus on practical actions and recommendations related to individual and contextual factors in ESL EFL with a specific concern with issues of cognition metacognition emotion and identity and offers perspectives from a diverse range of international education settings For teachers of ESL EFL the effective recognition and integration of individual and contextual factors into the classroom may represent a significant challenge This is often the case in those settings where native English speaking teachers work in foreign language contexts where they may have limited understanding of local cultures and languages or where language instructors have class groups that are culturally and linguistically diverse In these and similar contexts the types and extent of individual and contextual factors impacting on language learning may challenge both learner and instructor expectations of what an effective and supportive classroom is While such a situation offers numerous opportunities for learners and teachers to expand their knowledge of themselves and each other it also presents the possibility for ineffective teaching and learning to occur It is within this framework that the book presents the latest theoretical pedagogical and research perspectives from around the world thereby providing a resource for all stakeholders with an interest in the roles individual and contextual factors play in the English learning process Contextual Factors in Education, 1987 Contextual Factors in Education, 1987 An Inventory of Contextual Factors and Conditions Affecting Individual and Institutional Behavior in Schools, Colleges and Departments of Education David L. Clark, 1976 Children Learning to Read Catherine Compton-Lilly, 1999 Research on Urban Teacher Learning Andrea J. Stairs, Kelly A. Donnell, 2010-03-01 This book presents a range of evidence based analyses focused on the role of contextual factors on urban teacher learning Part I introduces the reader to the conceptual and empirical literature on urban teacher learning Part II shares eight research studies that examine how what and why urban teachers learn in the form of rich longitudinal studies Part III analyzes the ways federal state and local policies affect urban teacher learning and highlights the synergistic relationship between urban teacher learning and context What makes this collection powerful is not only that it moves research front and center in discussions of urban teacher learning but also that it recognizes the importance of learning over time and the way urban schools contexts and conditions enable and constrain teacher learning How to Use Research Evidence Well in Education Mark Rickinson, Lucas Walsh, Joanne Gleeson, Blake Cutler, Bernice Plant, Mark Boulet, Genevieve Hall, Connie Cirkony, Mandy Salisbury, 2025-09-24 This book provides education professionals with an accessible and actionable guide to using research well in real world contexts Using research evidence to improve education is critically important but often poorly supported There is little or no guidance for educators and leaders about how to do it well Through practical examples school case studies improvement activities and practice checklists this book unpacks what using research well involves and shows you how to develop it as an action based practice within your work The book s easy to read chapters guide you through the process of identifying your purpose for using research and finding appropriate research engaging with the research thoughtfully and implementing it effectively and modelling and supporting quality research use within your organisation Written for teachers and leaders across all stages of education who want to use research evidence better within their work this is an indispensable addition to the professional library     Contextual Factors Affecting

Individual and Institutional Behavior in Schools, Colleges and Departments of Education David Louis Clark,Egon G. Guba,1976     Studying Transfer in Higher Education: New Approaches to Enduring and Emerging Topics Xueli

Wang,2017-01-17 Gain fresh perspectives and approaches to the topic of students transferring among institutions of higher education Despite the copious research on transfer patterns and students who transfer this line of research is thronged with conceptual methodological and data challenges that warrant continued and more nuanced attention This volume answers this call and provides updated scholarship and examines emerging issues pertaining to transfer Organized around two broad interconnected ways to conceptualize transfer it first examines students who transfer and then discusses transfer as a complex postsecondary pathway Engaging empirical research perspectives and case analysis from higher education scholars and institutional researchers this volume offers renewed conceptual and methodological insights that inform future research on transfer along with concrete recommendations for institutional researchers This is the 170th volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Timely and comprehensive New Directions for Institutional Research provides planners and administrators in all types of academic institutions with guidelines in such areas as resource coordination information analysis program evaluation and institutional management     Progressing Science Education Keith S. Taber,2009-05-29

Exploring one of the central themes in science education theory this volume examines how science education can be considered as a scientific activity within a broad post positivist notion of science Many students find learning science extremely problematic whatever level of education they have reached At the end of the 1970s a new approach to tackling learning difficulties in science was developed drawing on ideas from psychology and cognitive science and centred on the way students build up new knowledge in reference to their existing ideas Constructivism became the dominant paradigm in science education research for two decades spawning a vast body of literature reporting aspects of learners ideas in different science topics However Constructivism came under fire as it was recognised that the research did not offer immediate and simple prescriptions for effective science teaching The whole approach was widely criticised in particular by those who saw it as having anti science leanings In this book the notion of scientific research programmes is used to understand the development limitations and potential of constructivism It is shown that constructivist work in science education fits into a coherent programme exploring the contingencies of learning science The author goes further to address criticisms of constructivism evaluate progress in the field and suggest directions for future research It is concluded that constructivism has provided the foundations for a progressive research programme that continues to guide enquiry into learning and teaching science

Contemporary Approaches To Research On Learning Environments: Worldviews Darrell Fisher, Myint Swe Khine, 2006-05-25 Learning environment research has undergone considerable growth in the past thirty years and has now reached a stage of notable diversity and internationalization Earlier studies often used questionnaires to assess learning environments but today both qualitative and quantitative approaches are used Many contemporary studies are a productive combination of these two approaches This volume brings together prominent educators and researchers from around the world to share their contemporary research on educational learning environments The chapters provide information on recent trends and developments and effective applications of different methods to improve teaching and learning The book will be a critical and specialized source that describes recent advances in learning environment studies across all continents The contributors come from Australia Belgium Cyprus Finland India Indonesia Israel Japan The Netherlands New Zealand Singapore Turkey Taiwan Thailand and the USA

Achieving Teaching Quality in Sub-Saharan Africa Sarah Lange, 2016-06-22 Sarah Lange examines the effectiveness of cascade training which constitutes a cost effective training model in teacher training In development cooperation countries teaching quality is expected to improve with teacher professional development for this purpose she explores the effectiveness of training multipliers in schools in Cameroon This research question is analysed with a design which encompasses a questionnaire survey provided to teachers students and principals as well as a teacher video survey and a student achievement test The empirical results show the effects of cascade training on the learner oriented teaching practice if the trained teachers are supported in their role as change agents Among the conditions for the conceptual quality and the implementation of cascade training the continuity of school based professional development is particularly emphasized in light of the results

Englishes in English Language Teaching Marzieh Sadeghpour, 2019-07-23 The unprecedented growth and recognition of new world Englishes call for English language teaching programs to consider the place and relevance of the paradigm of World Englishes to the content and delivery of their curricula This concern is particularly compelling in the multi varietal contexts such as Australia where speakers from different Kachruvian Circles interact frequently with one another Investigating the place and pertinence of World Englishes in English language teaching in Australia this book explores the perceptions of English language teachers from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds working in Australia Looking at the effect on teachers confidence when dealing with different varieties of English the pedagogical implications and the causes of varying degrees of perception among teachers The author highlights the possible changes that could take place that would pave the ground for the development of World Englishes informed curriculum and pedagogy for English as an International Language which would in turn provide opportunities for learners to develop requisite competencies for intercultural communication. These are the skills which enable learners to successfully interact with speakers of various Englishes and negotiate and navigate with their interlocutors the differing cultural conceptualisations associated with the varieties of English during international and intercultural communication. Vital reading for anyone researching English language teaching or varieties of English and those teaching English as an international language anywhere in the world
