Colonial Furniture in New Zealand Stanley Northcote-Bade,1971 New Zealand Ray Grover,1980 A Guide to Home Decorating in New Zealand James Siers,Judith Shelby Siers,Vivian Mary Shelton,1971 New Zealand Sculpture Michael Dunn,2002 This work charts the growth of sculpture in this former British colony from the era of British imports through a period of strong British influence to the more confident art of the 20th century using a wider set of sources and materials and more personal forms of expression New Zealand Art John Stacpoole,Peter Beaven,1972 This survey of New Zealand architecture the first to be separately published begins with precolonial buildings in the Far North and ends not far short of the present day For easier consideration of the different influences at work the period has been broken into three parts 1820 80 1880 1920 1970 Within this framework the authors have chosen to illustrate buildings which best represent their time or which epitomise some important development No building has been ruled out because of familiarity but equally text and photographs have sometimes been allowed to take unexpected directions The aim of the authors has been to lay out the pattern of architectural design over 150 years and to encourage the general reader and those newly interested in architecture to look hard at buildings which have had only casual attention before Selection particularly of the work of living architects has often been difficult and some fine buildings have been excluded Some have simply been casualties of the necessary limitation of numbers Inside front cover Old New Zealand Houses 1800-1940 Jeremy Salmond,Laurence Jeremy E. Salmond,1986 They appear everywhere in the New Zealand landscape a wonderfully distinctive collection of older houses of all shapes and sizes built along the street of cities and small towns and across farming hillsides and by country roads This book is both a history and a celebration of New Zealand's magnificent old houses and a clear and approachable account of how these houses were built and inhabited Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress,1970 The New Zealand Official Year-book New Zealand. Department of Statistics,1979 New Zealanders at Home Anna Katrine Caughey Petersen,2001 Featuring photographs drawings and paintings this volume offers a visual history of New Zealand interiors The homes presented represent the living spaces of the Maori of missionaries and settlers and of the suburban middle class Architecture construction design decoration and use are all discussed

Furniture of the New Zealand Colonial Era William Cottrell,2006-01-01 American Decorative Arts and Old World Influences David M. Sokol,1980 New Zealand Books in Print ,1976 Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1976 The Dictionary of New Zealand English H. W. Orsman,1997 The Dictionary of New Zealand English provides a unique historical record of New Zealand words and phrases from their earliest use to the present day The 6 000 main headword entries and 9 300 separate sub entries provide fascinating insights into New Zealand's diverse linguistic heritage The definitions are illustrated by 47 000 select quotations arranged in chronological order from the earliest to the latest The origin of each headword is discussed The Dictionary of New Zealand English is an essential reference for those interested in New Zealand society history and culture and makes an invaluable contribution to the study of the English language worldwide The Publishers Weekly ,1924 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress,2010
