Historians have not usually identified British Columbia as a rural province B C historiography has been dominated by mining logging and fishing and theorized within the context of large scale laissez faire capitalism and economic individualism Silences in the historical record have exacerbated this situation and lent tacit support to the dominance of resource based capitalism as the shaping force in B C history The essays in Beyond the City Limits all published here for the first time decisively break this silence and challenge traditional readings of B C history In this wide ranging collection R W Sandwell draws together a distinguished group of contributors who bring expertise methodologies and theoretical perspectives taken from social and political history environmental studies cultural geography and anthropology They discuss such diverse topics as Aboriginal White settler relations on Vancouver Island pimping and violence in northern BC and the triumph of the coddling moth over Okanagan orchardists to show that a narrow emphasis on resource extraction capitalist labour relations and urban society is simply not broad enough to adequately describe those who populated the province s history By challenging the dominant urban based and overwhelmingly capitalist interpretation of the province s history the provocative essays in Beyond the City Limits expand our understanding of what rural was and what it meant in the history of British Columbia      Parliamentary Debates, 1877      The Puritan as a Colonist and Reformer Ezra Hoyt Byington, 1899

Globalizing Confederation brings together original research from 17 scholars to provide an international perspective on Canada s Confederation in 1867 In seeking to ascertain how others understood constructed or considered the changes taking place in British North America Globalizing Confederation unpacks a range of viewpoints including those from foreign governments British colonies and Indigenous peoples Exploring perspectives from the Austro Hungarian Empire France Latin America New Zealand and the Vatican among others as well as considering the impact of Confederation on the rights of Indigenous peoples during this period the contributors to this collection present how Canada s Confederation captured the imaginations of people around the world in the 1860s Globalizing Confederation reveals how some viewed the 1867 changes to Canada as part of a reorganization of the British Empire while others contextualized it in the literature on colonization more broadly while still others framed the event as part of a re alignment or power shift among the Spanish French and British empires While many people showed interest in the Confederation debates others such as South Africa and the West Indies expressed little interest in the establishment of Canada until it had profound effects on their corners of the global political landscape      Papers Relating to the Late Disturbances in Barbados ,1876      London Society bertha thomas,1878      The Universal Cyclopaedia ,1900      The Encyclopædia Britannica Hugh Chisholm,1910      The Encyclopaedia Britannica: Cal to Con ,1910      English Colonies in America ...: The Puritan colonies John Andrew Doyle,1889
