Introducing Contemporary Feminist Thought

Mary Evans, 2013-07-03 This introductory textbook offers a concise and lucid account of the main developments in contemporary feminist thinking and demonstrates the centrality of feminist thought to all areas of intellectual enquiry In a wide ranging discussion Evans argues that most accounts of the world since the Enlightenment have been constructed in terms of a distinction between the public and the private which excluded women Using both historical and more recent examples she examines the breadth and complexity of feminist thinking focusing on key themes such as the body representation engendering knowledge and the relationship between women and the state Evans argues that feminist thought seeks less to add to existing theory than to re theorize the social and symbolic worlds no contemporary account of these worlds she suggests is complete without a discussion of the implications of gender difference This book offers a clear and coherent guide to contemporary feminism for students of women s studies gender studies sociology social theory and literary theory

Contemporary Feminist Theory and Activism

Wendy Lynne Lee, 2009-12-30 In this book Wendy Lynne Lee sets out to demonstrate how feminist theorizing is relevant to issues that may seem less directly about the status and emancipation of women but that are vital she argues to forming connections with other important twenty first century movements Lee shows how a feminist approach to crafting these connections can shed light on the economic disparity and entrenched gender inequality of global markets the role technology plays in our conception of reproductive rights sexual identity and gender the rise of religious fanaticism and the relationship between our conceptions of gender nonhuman animals and the environment Timely politically passionate and forcefully argued Contemporary Feminist Theory and Activism will reinvigorate feminist thought for the twenty first century

Destabilizing Theory Michèle Barrett, Anne Phillips, 1992 In the past decade the central principles of western feminist theory have been dramatically challenged many feminists have endorsed post structuralism s rejection of essentialist theoretical categories and have added a powerful gender dimension to contemporary critiques of modernity Earlier women have been radically undermined and newer concerns with difference identity and power have emerged Destabilizing Theory explores these developments in a set of specially commissioned essays by feminist theorists Does this change amount to a real shift within feminist theory or will feminism s links with an emancipatory modernism reinstate an older political agenda Can we transcend the common counterposition of equality and difference or is feminism condemned to argue within the terms of this binary opposition
