Contemporary Film Theory:

Contemporary Film Theory Antony Easthope, 1993 At the beginning of the twentieth century the extraordinary medium of film presented itself as a new way of understanding the increasing complexity of modern life Lacan and Contemporary Film Todd McGowan, 2020-09-08 This unique volume collects a series of essays that link new developments in Lacanian psychoanalytic theory and recent trends in contemporary cinema Though Lacanian theory has long had a privileged place in the analysis of film film theory has tended to ignore some of Lacan's most important ideas As a result Lacanian film theory has never properly integrated the disruptive and troubling aspects of the filmic experience that result from the encounter with the Real that this experience makes possible Many contemporary theorists emphasize the importance of the encounter with the Real in Lacan's thought but rarely in discussions of film By bringing the encounter with the Real into the dialogue of film theory the contributors to this volume present a new version of Lacan to the world of film studies These essays bring this rediscovered Lacan to bear on contemporary cinema through analysis of a wide variety of films including Memento Eyes Wide Shut Breaking the Waves and Fight Club The films discussed here demand a turn to Lacanian theory because they emphasize the disruptive role of the Real and of jouissance in the experience of the human subject There is a growing number of films in contemporary cinema that speak to film's power to challenge and disturb the complacency of spectators and the essays in Lacan and Contemporary Film analyze some of these films and bring their power to light Because of its dual focus on developments in Lacanian theory and in contemporary film this collection serves as both an accessible introduction to current Lacanian film theory and an introduction to the study of contemporary cinema Each essay provides an accessible jargon free analysis of one or more important films and at the same time each explains and utilizes key concepts of Lacanian theory The collection stages an encounter between Lacanian theory and contemporary cinema and the result is the enrichment of both Film Theory Goes to the Movies Jim Collins, Hilary Radner, Ava Collins, 1993 First Published in 1993 transformed our understanding The Real of Reality: The Realist Turn in Contemporary Film Theory ,2021-08-30

This book provides philosophical insight into the nature of reality by reflecting on its ontological qualities through the medium of film The main question is whether we have access to reality through film that is not based on visual representation or narration Is film in spite of its immateriality a way to directly grasp and reproduce reality Why do we perceive film as real at all What does it mean to define its own reproducibility as an ontological feature of reality And what does film as a medium exactly show The contributions in this book provide from a cinematic perspective diverse philosophical analyses to the understanding of the challenging concept of the real of reality Mystifying Movies Noël Carroll,1988-03-02

Phenomenology Allan Casebier,1991-10-25 Film and Phenomenology presents a new approach to the question of cinematic representation which runs contrary to the course of contemporary film theory Film and Phenomenology presents a new approach to the question of cinematic representation which runs contrary to the course of contemporary film theory Film Theory and Contemporary Hollywood Movies Warren Buckland,2009-06-03 Film theory no longer gets top billing or plays a starring role in film studies today as critics proclaim that theory is dead and we are living in a post theory moment While theory may be out of the limelight it remains an essential key to understanding the full complexity of cinema one that should not be so easily discounted or discarded In this volume contributors explore recent popular movies through the lens of film theory beginning with industrial economic analysis before moving into a predominately aesthetic and interpretive framework The Hollywood films discussed cover a wide range from 300 to Fifty First Dates from Brokeback Mountain to Lord of the Rings from Spider Man 3 to Fahrenheit 9 11 from Saw to Raiders of the Lost Ark and much more Individual essays consider such topics as the rules that govern new blockbuster franchises the posthumanist realism of digital cinema video game adaptations increasingly restricted stylistic norms the spatial stories of social networks like YouTube the mainstreaming of queer culture and the cognitive paradox behind enjoyable viewing of traumatic events onscreen With its cast of international film scholars Film Theory and Contemporary Hollywood Movies demonstrates the remarkable contributions theory can offer to film studies and moviegoers alike The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory Edward Branigan,Warren Buckland,2013-12-04 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory is an international reference work representing the essential ideas and concepts at the centre of film theory from the beginning of the twentieth century to the beginning of the twenty first When first encountering film theory students are often confronted with a dense interlocking set of texts full of arcane terminology inexact formulations sliding definitions and abstract generalities The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory challenges these first impressions by aiming to make film theory accessible and open to new readers Edward Branigan and Warren Buckland have commissioned over 50 scholars from around the globe to address the difficult formulations and propositions in each theory by reducing these difficult formulations to straightforward propositions. The result is a highly accessible volume that clearly defines and analyzes step by step many of the fundamental concepts in film theory ranging from familiar concepts such as Apparatus Gaze Genre and Identification to less well known and understood but equally important concepts such as Alain Badiou's Inaesthetics Gilles Deleuze's Time Image and Jean-Luc Nancy's Evidence. The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory is an ideal reference book for undergraduates of film studies as well as graduate students new to the discipline.

Explorations in Film Theory Ron Burnett, 1991. Explorations in Film Theory is a selection of some of the most influential articles which originally appeared in Cineaste, one of the journals which helped define contemporary film theory. The articles represent crucial ideas and theories in the areas of film and communications studies, feminist studies and film history. They challenge the way theoreticians and filmmakers have not come to grips with sexual difference and they raise questions about image and how images produce meaning. Bertolt Brecht, Walter Benjamin, Dziga Vertov, pornography, educational television and the New German Cinema of the 1970s are some of the topics covered.

Theorizing Film Through Contemporary Art Jill Murphy, Laura Rascaroli, 2025-10-01. As the cinematic experience becomes subsumed into today's ubiquitous technologies of seeing, contemporary artworks lift the cinematic out of the immateriality of the film screen and separate it into its physical components within the gallery space. How to read these reformulations of the cinematic medium and their critique of what it is and has been. In Theorizing Cinema Through Contemporary Art: Expanding Cinema, leading film theorists consider artworks that incorporate restage and re-present cinema's configuration of the key categories of space, experience, presence, absence, production and consumption, technology, myth, perception, event and temporality, so interrogating the creation, appraisal and evolution of film theory as channeled through contemporary art. This book takes film theory as a blueprint for the moving image and juxtaposes it with artworks that render cinema as a material object. In the process, it unfolds a complex relationship between a theory and a practice that have commonly been seen as virtually incompatible, renewing our understanding of each and more to the point of their interactions.

Cinema, Theory, and Political Responsibility in Contemporary Culture Patrick McGee, 1997-08-14. McGee explores the political significance of aesthetic analysis in the context of cultural studies and asks how political responsibility can be reconciled with the concept of the university as a democratic institution.

Understanding Film Theory C. Etherington-Wright, Ruth Doughty, 2011-08-17. This book addresses a very real gap in existing introductory texts that define, explore and apply key theoretical concepts within the field of film studies.

Alison L. McKee, Assistant Professor, Department of Television, Radio, Film, Theatre, San Jose State University, USA. This is the book that film students have long been waiting for: a clear, well-written and accessible introduction to film theory. Lucid theoretical exposition and case study film analysis offer readers the most intelligible summary of theory that I have yet encountered.

Genre Trouble and Extreme Cinema Troy Bordun, 2017-11-10 This volume re evaluates theories of genre and spectatorship in light of a critic defined tendency in recent art cinema coined extreme cinema In Genre Trouble and Extreme Cinema Bordun argues that the films of Mexican director Carlos Reygadas and French director Catherine Breillat expand generic classifications Bordun contends that their films make it apparent that genre is not established prior to the viewing of a work but is recollected and assembled by spectators in ways that matter for them in both personal and experiential terms The author deploys contemporary film theories on the senses both phenomenological and affect theory and partakes in close readings of the films forms and narratives The book thus adds to the present literature on extreme cinema and film theory yet sets itself apart by fully deploying genre theory alongside the methodological and stylistic approaches of Stanley Cavell Vivian Sobchack Laura U Marks and Eugenie Brinkema
